PRICE SEVEN CENTS

Bomb Topped 50 Tons by Mistake: Khrush Fallout Due Over North America 3-5 Days

Unity Needed, GOP Message

Record 1,026 at Fund-Raising Event
To Hear Humphreys of National Unit

A record attendance of 1,026 attended the Fourth Annual Ulster County Republican fund raising dinner Monday night at Granite Hotel, Accord. Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Ulster County Republican committee chairman, presided.

Raymond V. Humphreys, former member of the West Virginia legislature and presently director of Education and Training for the National Republican Congressional Committee, was the speaker.

Humphreys told the enthusiastic audience that the party must mobilize all its strength, forget petty differences and work together to get out all the vote and the result would be victory and a "responsible government."

Must Work Together

The Republican party, born of the days of Abraham Lincoln, now stands, and has always stood for equality and freedom of all men. The party, based on faith in mankind was "born out of slavery to make man free," and thus the Republican party was founded on "high moral purpose," Humphreys told the group.

Urging that all groups in the party join hands, that any petty differences be forgotten, the speaker said "the party is bigger than partisan politics." There must be no division of attitudes. Humphreys said the end aim is to work together to get out the vote.

Cites Defeat of Ives

Citing the defeat of Irving M. Ives in 1954 as the Republican candidate for governor of New York, the speaker turned to simple but impressive figures.

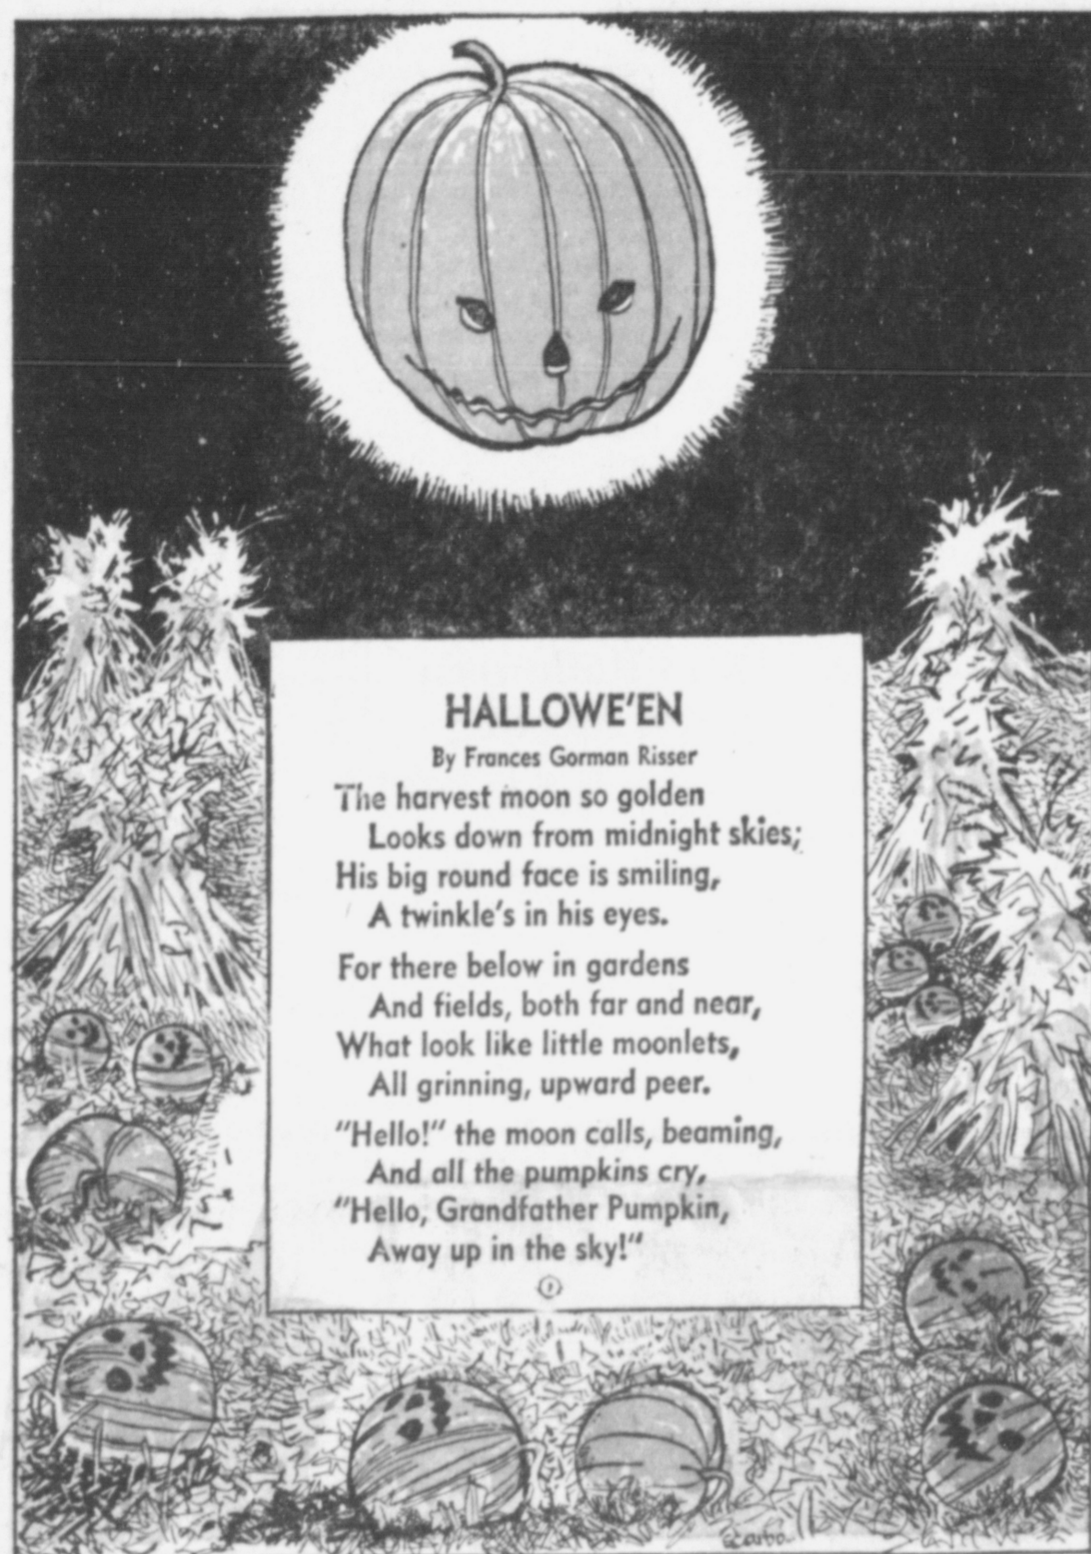

The defeat of Ives as governor was by some 11,000 votes. "You in Ulster County could have elected him governor by the 16,000 voters who stayed at home and failed to vote," Humphreys said. This was equally true in numerous of the larger counties and he mentioned adjacent Dutchess County. "The 95 election districts in Ulster County could have made the difference in 1954," he said.

Humphreys urged the voters "lift their arms to the people of the state" by getting out the vote and electing Republican states.

With a strong Republican organization working to carry the message to the voters of New York City, Humphreys said Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz, Republican mayoralty candidate, would easily defeat his opponent.

If America is to be kept as we know it, to continue to be the great country which was

HALLOWE'EN

By Frances Gorman Risser

The harvest moon so golden
Looks down from midnight skies;
His big round face is smiling,
A twinkle's in his eyes.

For there below in gardens
And fields, both far and near,
What look like little moonlets,
All grinning, upward peer.

"Hello!" the moon calls, beaming,
And all the pumpkins cry,
"Hello, Grandfather Pumpkin,
Away up in the sky!"

Test Made To Panic: Capital

U. S. Power Ample
To Destroy Foe,
White House Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union's huge nuclear burst—which may double the fallout coming from all the current Soviet tests—has been denounced by the White House as a device to incite "fright and panic."

The immediate fallout from the blast is expected to reach North America in three to five days. The White House statement, obviously issued with President Kennedy's approval, said the Soviet effort to spread fear will be repelled—"not only by the steadfastness of free men but by the power of the arms which men will use to defend their freedom."

The test, said the White House, does not affect the nuclear balance of power. It said the United States has "ample military power to destroy any nation which would unleash thermonuclear war."

There was no official word on what bearing the explosion may have on the possibility of the United States resuming tests in the atmosphere.

Won't Be Angry Congress Hears

Slight Error in Evaluation, Soviet Premier Says in First Announcement

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev declared today the giant bomb exploded Monday exceeded the 50-megaton calculation of the scientists but "we won't get angry with them for this."

In Closing Session

The statement was made in a brief speech at the closing session of the Communist party congress in the Kremlin. It was the first announcement in Russia that the bomb had been exploded, and even then it was made first only to a restricted session of the congress.

"The scientist smade a slight mistake in the evaluation of the bomb," Khrushchev said. "It proved somewhat bigger than 50-megatons, but we won't get angry with them for this."

Applause, Laughter

The announcement brought a storm of applause, of cheering and some laughter from the congress.

Khrushchev quickly calmed the delegates with a warning that to achieve the program "we will need work, work and only work."

The statement was made to the full membership of 4,500, with no Western foreign correspondents present.

Earlier in the brief concluding session, Ekaterina Furtseva, only woman member, was dropped

W. Europe Angered by Superbomb

LONDON (AP)—A shock wave of alarm and dismay surged across Western Europe today in the wake of the Soviet nuclear superbomb explosion.

Government leaders spoke out in anger against the Soviet defiance of worldwide appeals not to test the bomb.

Newspapers denounced the blast as a brutal crime against humanity, a political terror weapon aimed at covering the non-Communist world, a threat to the very existence of the human race.

Indian Prime Minister Nehru expressed grave concern. Japanese political leaders were indignant. But in general the Asian and African governments were silent, as they have been since the Soviet Union resumed nuclear testing Sept. 1.

Fearful of the fallout expected from the blast, governments prepared to test milk, green vegetables and other foods for radioactivity. British officials made plans to issue emergency supplies of dried milk for babies should fresh milk become dangerously contaminated.

Halloween Fun Will Be Devoted To Aid UNICEF

Children in Kingston and surrounding areas will be among two and a half million American boys and girls who will Trick or Treat for UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, tonight when they make their calls on neighbors and friends. They will devote their Halloween fun to saving other children's lives. Every penny they collect can protect a child from tuberculosis or give him five glasses of milk.

Coordinating the effort in Kingston is Mrs. Mary Short of the YWCA, who urges residents to welcome these children when they come calling. Each will be equipped with official UNICEF identification badges and coin boxes.

Last year the small coins collected Trick or Treating for the Children's Fund totalled $1,750,000. "This figure gets all its heart-warming, gratifying meaning when it is translated into terms of UNICEF aid," Mrs. Short said. Official reports indicate that a single penny can mean the vaccine to protect a child from TB, a nickel can supply penicillin to cure a child of yaws, a crippling highly contagious tropical disease. A dime can buy enough DDT to protect a child from malaria for nearly a year, and a quarter can mean the antibiotics to save a child from the blindness of trachoma.

Newburgh Plan Called Hoax

Will Compile Regulations To Safeguard Welfare Funds

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The State Welfare Board says the public thinks local welfare departments are easy marks for chiselers.

The board, meeting at the State Welfare Conference, announced a program Monday it hopes will change this picture. Under the program, welfare rules, regulations and practices for safeguarding welfare funds will be compiled, presumably in pamphlet form.

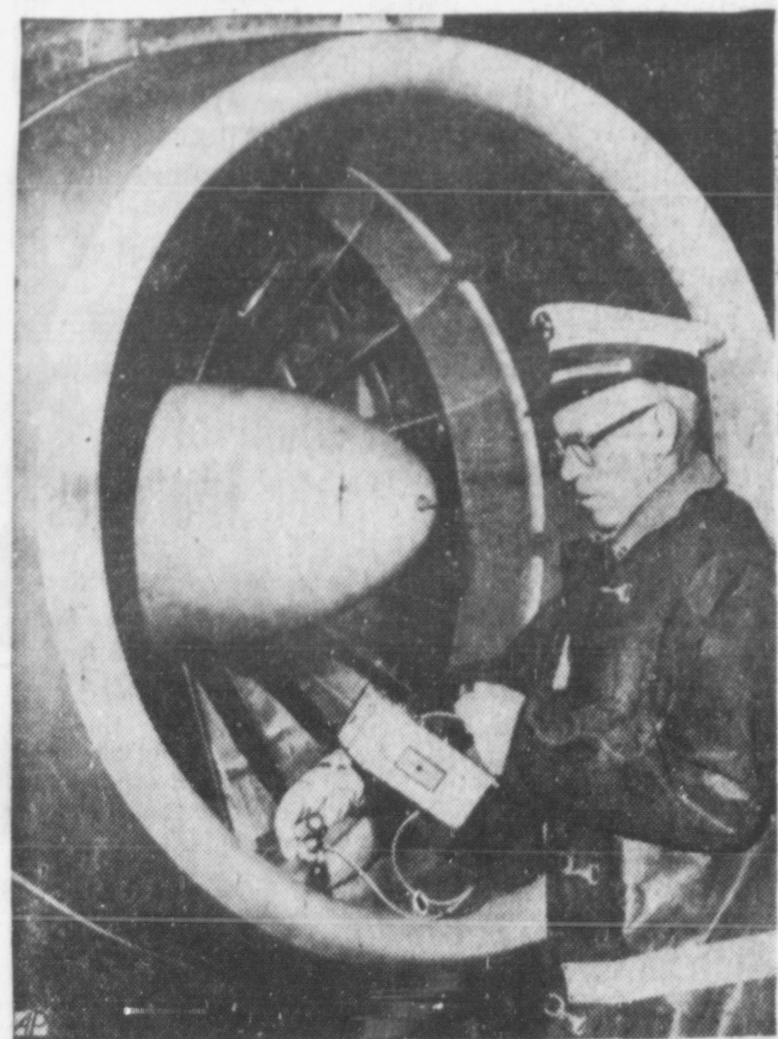

Board Chairman Myles B. Amend of Crestwood said one of every two local welfare applications in the state are turned down. "This does not indicate to me that local welfare commissioners are soft touches," he said.

James R. Dumpson, New York City welfare commissioner, said private welfare agencies should be called to a stricter accounting of how they spend their money. Dumpson told the conference that private charity groups spend more than one-fifth of the $510 million that went for welfare in the state last year.

"I am frequently shocked," he said, "when I study a financial statement of a voluntary agency that indicates that it did not spend all of its income for service, when there remained, during the period, broad areas of unmet need."

Dumpson called Newburgh's publicized "get tough" welfare program "a national hoax."

A court ordered Newburgh not to put the plan into operation.

CHECK PLANE FOR RADIOACTIVE DUST — Lt. Charles Freiberg of the Boston Fire Department uses Geiger counter to check for radioactive dust on an American Airlines 707 Astrojet at Logan airport. Only a negligible amount was found. Check was requested after mechanics were reluctant to work on engines when they found the craft had flown from west coast at about same altitude of radioactive cloud from big Soviet blast of last week. Disaster Feared As Hurricane Hits Honduras Capital

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Giant hurricane Hattie smashed into British Honduras today, possibly inflicting a disaster on the capital city of Belize, and spread flash floods through the British crown colony and on deep into Guatemala.

Miami Weather Bureau storm forecasters said Belize, a city of 31,000 population, may have suffered a disaster, as a 15-foot tide pushed up by the hurricane blasted the coastline.

May Have Engulfed City

Such a tide, said forecaster Gilbert Clark, might have engulfed the city.

The hurricane center struck directly at Belize at 7:30 a. m. (EST). For hours, the city was pounded by mighty winds and tides.

At 11 a. m. (EST), Hattie was centered near latitude 17 north, longitude 88.8 west, about 50 miles southwest of Belize. It was moving west-southwest at 10 miles per hour.

Winds Now 100-MPH

The steady hurricane winds around the center had dropped from 150 to 100 m.p.h.

Clark said Belize took the highest winds and strongest tides the storm could throw.

"There could be a disaster there," said forecaster Gilbert Clark. "This hurricane is big

80 Points Test Fallout in Food

NEW YORK (AP)—Abraham Ribicoff, secretary of Health Education and Welfare, says the U. S. Public Health Service is measuring radioactive fallout in foods and in the air at more than 80 sampling stations across the nation.

Speaking here Monday Ribicoff said:

"The major problem is, of course, how this (fallout) may affect our health and the health of our children and grandchildren."

"To help answer this question, the service has set up a system of sampling and measuring the air we breathe, the food we eat, and the water and the milk we drink."

Insist That All Meat-Inspection Be by One Agency

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Representatives of municipal government, women's clubs, meat packers and packagers of frozen food maintain the state should place all meat-inspection under one agency.

The state health department now governs municipal and county meat-inspection services.

Beginning Jan. 1, the state Agriculture Department will oversee inspection of all meat preparation

Go to Primaries, Nixon Tells 130th About 1964 Race

By ROBERT T. GRAY

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Fight it out in the primaries, Richard M. Nixon advises Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

The former vice president and losing candidate for the presidency last year said Monday night Rockefeller and Goldwater should "clash in primaries" to determine who would be the best candidate to challenge President Kennedy in 1964.

Not After Top Job

Nixon, who is seeking the Republican nomination for governor of California, has said he will not campaign for the GOP presidential nomination. He declared Monday night he would not enter any primaries in 1964.

He addressed an overflow crowd of 8,000—more than 1,500 diners at $100 a plate and a gallery of 6,500—in the Syracuse War Memorial Auditorium.

Nixon returned to New York City after the dinner aboard Rockefeller's private plane, on which he and the governor had traveled to Syracuse.

Refuses to Take Sides

Nixon refused, both at the dinner and a press conference that preceded it, to take sides between Rockefeller and Goldwater as the Republican presidential nominee in 1964. He said his mission was

N. Y. Milk Outlook Black, Kennedy's Intervention Sought by Producers

NEW YORK (AP)—A Teamsters strike that has all but drained New York City and Long Island of milk entered its second week today with pessimism among negotiators and cries of concern from Upstate producers.

While producers urged President Kennedy to intervene, an industry spokesman summed up in one word Monday night his feelings about the situation: "black."

The strike of 10,000 Teamster members has stemmed the normal flow of milk to 10 million consumers in the city and in Nassau and Suffolk Counties.

The main roadblock to settlement is provision for overtime pay for drivers who deliver the milk. The union seeks installation of time clocks to log overtime, but management says this would result in claims for excessive overtime.

The call to President Kennedy was sounded Monday night by the Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative, which claims that dairy farmers in the New York milkshed will have lost $1.3 million if the strike continues through today.

At a special meeting in Auburn, about 100 dairymen approved a petition saying the strike should be declared a danger to public health.

The petition asked that Kennedy use emergency provisions of the National Labor-Management Relations Act to appoint a board of inquiry and move to obtain an injunction that would compel the strikers to return to work.

Berlin and Laos Are Lost: Gen. Van Fleet

Says Adlai Should Have Been Kicked Out Over Cuban Fiasco

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Tampa Tribune quotes Gen. James A. Van Fleet as saying Adlai E. Stevenson, ambassador to the United Nations, should have been fired because of the Cuban invasion which fizzled.

Van Fleet said also that Berlin and Laos are lost and that there is only a 50-50 chance of keeping South Viet Nam out of Communist control, the Tribune said in today's editions.

Van Fleet, former commander of the 8th Army in Korea, was to report to Ft. Bragg, N.C., today. He was called out of retirement to supervise the training of Army units in guerrilla warfare. The Tribune said Van Fleet departed from his text in a talk on Florida's water resources before the Natural Resources and Waterways Committee in nearby Lakeland Monday night.

The newspaper quoted Van Fleet as saying, "I would not like to read tomorrow that 'which I saw tonight.'"

He was quoted as saying Berlin was lost when "they made the agreement at the end of World War II."

The Tribune account added: He said Viet Nam has a strong national pride, "but a white face has no place in that country."

Van Fleet said Stevenson "should have been fired when he said he would not support the armed action by this country against (Fidel) Castro during the ill-fated Cuban invasion."

The general said this country sponsored the invasion and gave full Navy escort and air cover to and from training bases that the United States established. After Stevenson took his stand, Van Fleet said, the United States refused to go through with plans to give direct support to the landing force.

The inn is owned by Louis Weiner, a resident of New Jersey, and was unoccupied at the time. Furniture from the inn was stored in the casino and was a complete loss. Cause of the fire has not been determined. No estimate of the loss was available.

Britain to Back U.S. in Tests, Macmillan Says

LONDON (AP) — Britain will back the United States in testing big nuclear bombs if this becomes necessary to maintain the balance of power and preserve world freedom, Prime Minister Macmillan said tonight.

He said Britain has no plans at this time for nuclear testing of her own and would make no test just to retaliate for the Soviet 50-megaton explosion.

"Nevertheless, I must be quite clear and frank," he told Parliament, "if I were convinced that a particular atmospheric test was necessary to maintain the balance of deterrents and preserve the freedom of the world, our country would be bound either to cooperate in or support their (American) conduct."

Nonaligned Push For Appeal to End All Tests

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Nonaligned members of the United Nations pushed today for action on an appeal to the nuclear powers to call a voluntary halt to all test explosions. There was no sign the Soviet Union or the West would heed it.

Pressure for a vote mounted in the 102-nation Political Committee. The appeal had the backing of the powerful Asian-African group, as well as the Scandinavians and many Latin American states.

The support appeared enough to put across the appeal, but delegates gloomily predicted it would do little if any good in view of the current Soviet test series and warnings by both Britain and the United States that they might have to resume testing in the atmosphere to keep up.

Both the United States and Britain have come out against any U.N. endorsement of a voluntary moratorium. They contend the Soviet Union's violation of the old moratorium, climaxed by its mammoth blast Monday proves the futility of approving a new one.

Both Western powers have insisted that the only effective test would be a test ban treaty with effective international controls.

The Soviet Union has made clear it will abide by no moratorium until it has done all the testing it plans to do.

The United States claims that even if the Soviet Union does stop testing now, it could only be to utilize the results of its latest test series and to prepare for new ones.

India, sponsoring the call for a voluntary moratorium along with Ethiopia, Ghana, Nepal, the United Arab Republic and Yugoslavia, failed Friday in an attempt to win quick consideration of the appeal.

Koenig Charges Interest Is Lost By Republicans

Speaking at a Democratic rally at county headquarters on Central Broadway, Monday night, Joseph J. Koenig, a Kingston accountant and Democratic candidate for Ulster County treasurer said that under Republican administration over an eight-year period, the county failed to receive "a single cent of interest" for monies on deposit in various banks throughout the county.

He further charged that from 1950 to date "net loss to Ulster County taxpayers" was $171,661.72, when the interest which should have been received would have totalled $180,000.00.

Koenig, who served as county treasurer on an interim appointment by former Governor Harriman during the latter part of 1958, said:

"The Republican Party says this is good fiscal administration. It's far from that, if you look at the record. When I was appointed county treasurer I recommended county funds on deposit draw interest. From 1959 through 1961, the interest received was $38,338.28. It should have been over $45,000.00 for just those three years. Just check the figures and make your own comparisons. Then, you'll find out how much the county taxpayers were short-changed."

Conley of 48 McDonald Street, Saugerties, who died Oct. 27, was held Monday 9 a. m. from Seamon Funeral Home Inc., John and Lafayette Streets, Saugerties, thence to St. Mary's of the Snow Church, Saugerties, where at 9:30 a. m. a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward Plover. Mrs. Perry Bunyar was organist and Mrs. John Nau, soloist. During the repose many called to pay their respects and many floral and spiritual bouquets were received. Sunday evening the Rev. Joseph Hamilton called at the funeral home and led those assembled in the recitation of the Rosary. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery, Barclay Heights, where Msgr. Plover pronounced the final absolution. Bearers were Jerry Storms, Thomas Gilmore, George Gilmore, Charles Gippert, Lewis Siebert, Martin Petersen.

Philip H. McCord

Philip H. McCord of Plains Road, Walkkill, died Monday at his home after a brief illness. He was born in the Town of Gardiner, May 25, 1888, a son of the late John T. and Mary Corkey McCord. He was married to the former Alice J. Van Wyck. Mr. McCord was well-known in the area as a dairy farmer. He retired two years ago after 36 years of operating his farm. Surviving are his wife; two sons, John T. McCord and William W. McCord, both of Walkkill; a daughter, Mrs. May Roebuck of Walden; a brother, George E. McCord of West Park; two sisters, Mrs. Jessie A. Malcolm of Montgomery and Mrs. Grace DeGroff of Hyde Park; 11 grandchildren and several nieces and nephews. Funeral services will be held at the Ronk Funeral Home, Walkkill, Thursday 1 p. m. The Rev. Wilhelm Hayson, pastor of the New Hurley Reformed Church, will officiate. Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening. Burial will be in the New Hurley Cemetery.

Saugerties Baby Dies Despite Efforts of Vols

David Anthony Tong, three-months-old son of Heath and Rose Banach Tong of Saugerties-Woodstock Road, died of suffocation this morning despite the efforts of Centerville Fire Company volunteers who applied artificial respiration.

Coroner Michael A. Galletta said death was due to pneumonia. Shortly after 7 a. m. a rescue team of Centerville Fire Company responded to a call for help. John C. Paige and Howard Wittenbecker applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation but the child failed to respond.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by Hartley and Lamouree Funeral Home, Main and Second Streets, Saugerties.

English translation of Te-cumseh, Indian chief of the Shawnees, is "shooting star."

Rochester Students Protest, Claim Faculty Loses Touch

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A mass student protest rally at the University of Rochester has aired charges that the quality of the university's undergraduate teaching is slipping rapidly.

Between 800 and 1,000 students massed Monday on the university's Eastman quadrangle and heard students leaders attack what they said were overcrowded classes, indifferent graduate assistants and professors preoccupied with research.

The general tone of the protest was that the faculty was losing touch with students. Student sources said the rally was sparked by the raising last week of the annual undergraduate tuition to $1,500, an increase of $225.

Donald Albart, a senior from Rochester, told the rally that freshman English classes four years ago numbered about 20 students and met three times weekly with the professor.

Now, he said, they number 150

students and meet only twice weekly with the professor and a third time with a graduate instructor, he said, who is "often unqualified and uninterested in teaching."

Alan Koral, a senior from New York City and president of the college cabinet, said the academic situation has been deteriorating for four years.

Gerry Marsh, a junior from Newark Valley, said the university is spending a lot of money to attract outstanding professors who spend all their time in research or teaching graduate students.

Later, Joseph W. Cole, dean of students, said he is convinced that the university is "stronger and better than it was four years ago."

He added, however, it would be "most unwise if officials didn't listen to the students' complaints."

Rochester's undergraduate enrollment has increased from 1,620 in 1951 to 2,245.

Cable Firms Hit With Antitrust Charges in N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP) — Six large manufacturers of power cable have been charged by New York State with antitrust violations in dealings with the New York City Transit Authority.

Five of the firms immediately denied the accusations.

State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz announced Monday that his office had brought suit in state Supreme Court for a permanent injunction and $300,000 in penalties—$50,000 from each defendant.

In six years of submitting identical bids to the authority, Lefkowitz charged, the companies received $1.08 million in contracts. The companies, which were said to produce nearly all the paper and lead-covered cable made in the United States, are:

Anaconda Wire and Cable; General Cable; Phelps Dodge Copper Products; Okonite, a subsidiary of Kennecott Copper; United States Steel Corp., and Colorado Fuel and Iron.

The complaint, which Lefkowitz said must be answered within 20 days, asks that the firms be permanently restrained from "conspiring to fix prices of continuing monopolistic practices."

Lefkowitz said the alleged price-fixing came to light during an investigation asked by the transit authority. He said the inquiry showed that out of 107 Transit Authority contracts bid on by the firms, bids on 106 were identical.

Veteran Newspaper Reporter Dies at 53

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Donald F. Munro, 53, a veteran newspaper reporter and copyreader, died Monday night in a hospital here after a lengthy illness.

At the time of his death, Munro was employed as a copyreader by the Harrisburg Patriot, a morning newspaper. Prior to coming to Harrisburg, he served on several newspapers in New York and Pennsylvania in various positions, including editor of the Endicott, N.Y., Daily Bulletin.

He served in the U.S. Navy during World War II and later served as public relations director of Clarkson College in Potsdam, N. Y.

Luigi Einaudi, First Italian President, Dies

ROME (AP)—Luigi Einaudi, 87, the Italian republic's first president, died Monday. He had been suffering from a heart and circulatory ailment.

Einaudi, an economics professor who had served as governor of the Bank of Italy, served as president from 1948 to 1955 when he was succeeded by Giovanni Gronchi. He was born in the little town of Carur in Northern Italy.

His son, Mario Einaudi, a professor at Cornell University, said he planned to leave today for the funeral. He said his father had been a newspaperman for 63 years and his last article was written Oct. 6, while he was bedridden.

The professor said his father started writing for newspapers in 1896 and continued except when he was "kicked out by the Fascists."

Times to Print Edition in L.A.

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times will print a Western edition in Los Angeles every morning except Sunday simultaneously with the New York edition, beginning in the latter part of 1962.

Plans for the new edition were announced Monday by Orvil E. Dryfoos, publisher of The Times. "Its purpose," he said, "will be to make the New York Times news report promptly and widely available to readers in the Western states."

The Western edition, he added, will carry "the foreign and national news reports, business and financial news and complete stock tables; editorials and the interpretive columns; critical reviews and news of the arts; women's and sports news."

"However, it will omit purely local New York news and other special material that would have little interest outside New York, and will not compete with Western papers in the coverage of strictly local news and features of the West Coast."

Appointed Senior Chemist at IBM

A. E. LESSOR

The appointment of Dr. Arthur E. Lessor Jr. of West Hurley as a senior chemist in film electronics development has been announced by Ralph G. Mork, manager of the IBM Federal Systems Division Command Control Center engineering laboratory at Kingston.

Dr. Lessor joined the Command Control Center in August, 1959 as a staff chemist in advanced development. In October, 1959 he was named manager of crystallographic services and was appointed an advisory chemist in physical sciences in May, 1960, a post he has held until his present appointment.

Dr. Lessor earned a bachelor of science degree in chemistry at Union College and a doctor of philosophy degree in chemistry at Indiana University. He is a member of the American Chemical Society, the American Crystallographic Association, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Sigma Xi and Phi Lambda Upsilon.

Dr. Lessor, his wife, Edith, and children, Ralph, 5, and Karen, 3, reside at Clover Street, West Hurley.

Schwartz Attends Trudeau Parley

Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, medical director at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, last weekend attended a meeting of the Trudeau Society, Eastern Region and New York

State, held in New York City at the Statler Hilton Hotel.

Dr. Schwartz, as chairman of the Education Research Committee for the society, reported his committee's recommendations on health education in the battle to eradicate tuberculosis and pointed to the need for stepping up efforts in education to inform the public about the other chronic respiratory diseases.

The Trudeau Society is the society of physicians specializing in the field of practice. The meeting of these specialists was held in conjunction with the annual Eastern States Regional meeting of Tuberculosis Associations.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, OCTOBER 31, 1961

JOHN SCHWENK'S PROGRAM

In this final week of the local political campaign, which usually brings with it a lot of noise and rumors, let's not forget to give the City of Kingston first consideration and this is particularly true in the selection of a chief executive for Kingston.

Kingston needs many things and needs them badly and in order to accomplish them so that we may move forward we must have the highest quality of leadership.

Increased registration over the 1959 mayoralty election shows a deep concern upon the part of the electorate in the type of government we are going to have in the next two years. The larger registration likewise indicates that there has been aroused in the electorate a profound interest in the person they want to administer the affairs of the local government in the coming years. It also demonstrates an awareness upon the part of the voters that the people get the kind of government they choose.

With this in mind, the alert citizen is going to vote for an executive who is qualified, civic-minded and courageous and whose administration will have both vitality and vision.

If an intelligent vote is to be made, serious attention must be given to past performances and accomplishments and to the issues. The citizen who studies the men and the issues and then casts his vote will have nothing to reproach himself, whatever the outcome.

John Schwenk, the Republican mayoralty candidate, sets the issues by calling for a halt to the reckless and irresponsible spending of taxpayers' money and to the revitalizing of the various city departments by seeking more efficient means of operation so that a full dollar of service will be obtained for each tax dollar spent.

He also calls attention to the need of bringing the antiquated city charter up to date by needed revision as well as a program of revitalization of our parks which have become decayed and run down.

On the question of off-street parking, he will submit a survey calling for 12 lots without demolition in sections of the city where the parking problem is most acute. The survey will cost the taxpayers nothing.

Finally his program calls for the operation of the city on a sound fiscal basis on a pay-as-you-go budget.

Kingston needs this program and we believe that John Schwenk will carry it out to the letter because he is under no obligation to anyone.

We believe the true interests of the city and its future will be served best through the election of John Schwenk.

THE SATURN LAUNCHING

This one was named, fittingly enough, after the sixth planet from the sun. Saturn, most spectacular of the planets in our system, is exceeded in size only by Jupiter. And Saturn is farther away than Jupiter; Saturn travels its great circle around the sun nearly 800 million miles from the earth.

Saturn is a fitting name, then, for this giant rocket that was successfully hurtled down-range from Cape Canaveral. Weighing close to 50 tons, towering more than 160 feet above the launching pad, driven by mighty engines creating 1,300,000 pounds of thrust, this is believed to be the biggest rocket yet sent aloft.

Whereupon one not impressed by mere size and power for their own sake might ask: Well, then, what now? Of what significance is it that the United States now has launched the biggest rocket? Will it be used to heap nuclear coals on Moscow's head; is that its purpose?

Happily, the answer to that is negative.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
BERLIN

The decision has been made by East and West that the test of strength is to come over the issue of Berlin. To many, this will appear to be an error. They would have preferred that the United States take its stand over Cuba or Laos or Taiwan. The die has been cast and we now face Soviet Russia at Berlin for a final decision. Both sides are moving into line.

The decision as to Germany was fixed by an international agreement signed in London September 12, 1944. Representatives of the United States, the Soviet Union and Great Britain signed this agreement and it is still binding upon those nations. In due course, France joined them. In the Potsdam Conference the London Agreement was endorsed.

From the standpoint of international law, the position which we now take in Berlin is absolutely legitimate. The only proper way to violate this agreement is by a conference of the signatories to it for the purpose of amending or abolishing it. A unilateral change of this agreement by any one party to it has no legitimacy and can only lead to war. Actually World War I was fought over the issue of the unilateral violation of treaties and agreements.

The difficulty in the present situation is that whereas there is an agreement among the victors as to what they would do to the vanquished, there has been no peace treaty between Germany and the victors, although 16 years have passed. Furthermore, Germany has been divided into two parts, West and East Germany, and no peace treaty with a unified Germany is possible. Also, during these 16 years, the Allies have broken their various alliances so that Soviet Russia is actually an enemy of the United States and the Western World. Whereas East Germany has become a satellite of Soviet Russia, West Germany has become economically and militarily perhaps the strongest in Western Europe.

These changes involve adjustments in theory and operations and are cause for the present disturbances, the worst of which is the wanton firing of bombs by Soviet Russia to the peril of the entire world. Soviet Russia seeks to deal with current political problems by testing bombs.

What Khrushchev wants to accomplish by a campaign of terror is to force the United States and the other Western powers to recognize that the unification of Germany is impossible, that there inevitably must be two Germanys, that the United States and the other Western nations must recognize East Germany as they recognize West Germany, and that they must withdraw their troops from German territory.

This program would establish the Russian conquest of Germany without further battle. It would bring Russian power to the Rhine and force France to accept Soviet hegemony without further war. It would eliminate Western influences from Western Europe. It would imperil the existence of the Scandinavian countries and the Netherlands and Belgium. By a stroke of a pen the United States would find itself economically and politically isolated and would either accept such isolation or would have to fight for its right to access to other countries.

Under the circumstances of a Russian victory of this nature, the United Nations would go out of existence or would be moved to Berlin or Vienna and would cease to be an independent parliament of man. Rather, it would become an agency of Russian power, a peril to the peace of the world. It would become a political monster. This is precisely the situation that we face in 1961 with little prospect of an early solution for the problems that arise from the complexities that mount daily. No acceptable formula for the solution of current problems has appeared from any quarter. In fact, conferences and meetings have produced increasing confusion and preludes to disaster. It looks like war.

Mental Patient's Return Home Poses Problems

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Quite aside from its devastating effects on the patient, severe mental illness places grave responsibilities on members of the immediate family. It also raises continuing problems whose solutions often raise additional problems, sometimes of increasing perplexity.

Here's an illustration. Consider the plight of the family that has struggled with the problem of hospitalization of a dear one. They've finally agreed it's best for all concerned for the patient to be "put away."

No sooner has the unfortunate person entered an institution than he begs to be taken home. The food is no good. The bed is too hard or too soft. There's friction with other patients. Attendants are inattentive. The doctor is always in a hurry. And then, on the emotional side, there are pleas such as missing the parents or the children, the old homestead, familiar faces, one's own things and so on.

Eventually the day comes when the person is released, either as a result of these heart-rending pleas or because, thanks to treatment, there has been sufficient improvement to try a cautious return to the world beyond institutional walls.

What happens then is the subject of a highly informative pamphlet called "Mental Aftercare" obtainable at a cost of 25 cents from the Public Affairs Committee, a nonprofit organization located at 22 East 38 St., New York 16, N. Y.

Here are some of the conclusions reached in this study:

"Families that may have agitated for years to get a patient released from a mental hospital may prove utterly inept in coping with the patient when he does return home and have been known to call for his rehospitalization at the slightest alarm."

"Studies of returned patients and their families show that, although families try, they are often anxious. They watch the patient suspiciously, dreading the onset of symptoms of recurring illness."

"It is significant that patients who live alone and without undue family pressures often improve more rapidly and go back to work faster than those who return to their families."

In another column I'll tell you what's being done to improve mental aftercare.

For a copy of Dr. Hyman's leaflet "Understanding Mental Illness" send 10 cents to Dr. Hyman, care Kingston Daily Freeman, Box 489, Dept. B, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.

Saturn is the first of a new class of giant rockets whose ultimate function will be to place a U. S. expedition on the moon. Its successor, generating a million and a half pounds of thrust, is expected to circumnavigate the moon and deposit equipment on its surface. Then will come an even mightier vehicle destined for the final task of carrying men to a moonfall not many years hence. That is what began at Canaveral the other day.

Senator Humphrey says he's an optimist about East-West relations because "humanity is not crazy enough to destroy itself." That proves he's an optimist.

Let's You and Him Fight . . .

Washington News

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Nikita Khrushchev has some economic problems.

Now that the full texts of Khrushchev's speeches before the 22nd Congress of the Soviet party have arrived in Washington, certain things become clear.

At first glance, the second Khrushchev speech seemed a promise of what the people of the Soviet Union would get in 1970 and 1980, and a prediction of how they were going to outstrip the United States.

An analysis of the details of that speech indicates that Khrushchev actually was admitting that Soviet economic expansion is so unbalanced and so many key projects are off schedule that he is now forced to pour a greater share of Soviet resources into the heavy and war industries.

More effort is to be put into steel, machine tools, other such heavy industry goods. Less relative effort will be put into housing, other consumer products.

An analysis of Khrushchev's figures indicates that, even so, he expects the Soviet economy will grow at a slower rate from now on. His estimates would indicate that he believes that industrial production will grow at a rate of 7 per cent annually instead of the 9 to 10 per cent a year he has been claiming in the past.

THERE ARE SOME GOOD INDICATIONS of some of the economic troubles Khrushchev was hinting at in his speech.

Agricultural production was low this year for the second straight season. It was better than last year's critically poor output, but not much.

There is understood to have been a lag in the Russian construction of major missile bases because of a shortage of materials.

There has been a severe cut-back in the output of large Soviet missiles, though this is mostly in preparation for new types.

There has been a maldistribution of men and materials so great that many important new industrial projects have been slowed down to a snail's pace waiting for essential machinery and supplies. That is what caused Khrushchev to order a year's holiday on all but the most crucial new projects so that jobs already started could be completed.

MORE TROUBLES ARE FORECAST by population surveys, which indicate that for the next eight years the Soviet Union will have a very severe shortage of men and women reaching age 21.

During this period, the number of young men and women reaching 21 will be only about 50 to 60 per cent of what it would have been had it not been for World War 2 and its aftermath.

The decision to hold the military forces at high levels has intensified that manpower problem as well as the industrial problem. The added need for military arms and equipment will chew up materials needed for industrial expansion.

Because of the growing shortage of young workers, the Soviet Union will not have the expanding labor force it needs for the hothouse industrial growth that Soviet plans require.

TO MEET THESE INDUSTRIAL MANPOWER NEEDS, the Soviet Union has cut back on the quality of its higher education.

Since it is the new young blood that brings in the higher technical skills needed in an expanding economy, the technical competence of the Soviet labor force will not grow at the fast rate reached in the past few years.

It will not grow, either, at the rate the technical capacity of the U. S. labor force will grow in the decade ahead.

In a period in which growing automation demands higher and higher technical competence, this will put the Soviet Union under a severe handicap in its economic-industrial race with the United States.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

No end of interesting material is sent to this column by readers. Before me right now, is the Kingston Daily Freeman of Wednesday evening, December 24, 1884, a copy over 75 years old. It is in fine condition.

One of the advertisements on the front page is in poetry form. It starts with "Mark Jacobs. His works Praise Him." The late Marks Jacobs, I think was the father of the late Harry S. Jacobs of 23 Abrynn Street who was the father of Seamon Jacobs, now I think in Hollywood or New York where he writes TV shows.

Seamon Jacobs' mother is Frances Block Jacobs, sister of the later Mayor Morris Block.

This advertisement in poem form published in 1884 reads in part: "Son, say Pa, what has Marks Jacobs done, That people praise him so? . . . Father-And all the year he maketh clothes. For gentlemen to wear. . . he works with skill, I've heard the neighbors tell, And when a person buys a suit, it serves him long and well. . . My son when Jacobs buys his goods, He gets the best in store. The latest fashion he selects, in black and brown and blue, in plaids, diagonals and checks, in cheviot and corduroy. He makes them up in coats and pants. Vests, overcoats, and then, While every one his praises chants, He clothes a thousand men. . . When you want a suit of clothes, Do just as I have done; Buy of Marks Jacobs. . ."

There is a large advertisement

Wisdom of Holding Back Defense Funds Questioned

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — It's easy enough to applaud the saving of $780 million in the defense budget as a step in the direction of much needed economizing in government spending. But the issue isn't as simple as it seems on the surface. Here are the real questions that have yet to be answered:

1. Is the United States taking a chance on her security by putting an arbitrary limit on the number of manned bombers and on the future development of manned-bomber weapons?

2. Was there any other $780 million in the entire $89 billion budget that might have been saved instead and a decision made in favor of national security?

3. What right has a President to refuse to spend money appropriated by law for national defense?

Just twelve years ago—on Oct. 31, 1949—when Harry Truman was president, this correspondent wrote:

"Must a President of the United States obey the mandate of a law of Congress and spend the funds it authorizes for the armed services? Or may a President disregard the instruction given by Congress and withhold expenditures as he sees fit?"

"A precedent of far-reaching importance is involved in Mr. Truman's announcement that, although he signed the military appropriation bill which provides funds for a fifty-eight group air force, he will not spend the extra $648 million and will allow only a forty-eight-group air force."

"The Congress made a mistake in voting for a 58 instead of a 48-group air force, but the law is on the statute books and if the President didn't like it he should have made clear that he would veto the bill and Congress would have had the choice of overriding the veto or amending the bill to meet the President's wishes."

Less than nine months after the foregoing was written the Korean War broke out and America was in need of every bit of military strength in the air that it could mobilize. Looking back now many a military expert in air power would say that the United States cut its budget too much before 1950 and handicapped itself.

The point is that guessing what will or will not insure national safety on the military side is a hazardous matter. The moment the budget-cutters come into the picture they put the burden of proof on the military men, who possibly could get along without the extra strength but cannot be sure that war isn't coming. Yet they must take the risk in the planning and in the execution of defense policies approved by the President.

There are today 600 B-52 heavy bombers in inventory—the real backbone of the U. S. Strategic Air Command. They fly 10,000 miles without refueling, carry bomb loads estimated at 50 megatons to targets in Russia. Production will reach 744 planes by August next and will be halted. Then there's the B-70 supersonic-bomber program. It is still in the development stage.

Congress has urged an all-out program for a "full weapons system"—in other words, bombers of this type to be built as soon as possible. But now the executive branch of the government has cut back this project. It involves $180 million. Was there no other item in the $89 billion budget that could have been saved so that national security in an advanced field of air power might be assured?

Era of Uncertainty

This is an era of great uncertainty as to the prospect of war. The House Armed Services Committee last May said:

"Without in any way intending to minimize the importance of the intercontinental ballistic missile, and with full realization that it may represent our highest order of deterrent and offensive capability at some time in the future, the committee has posed to itself and poses the question to the House:

"Are we proceeding too rapidly in the area of what is essentially an unknown weapon at the cost of weapons whose capabilities are tried and known?"

Congress decided not to take a chance. It reasoned that "it's better to be safe than sorry." Now the administration has returned to the risk-taking doctrines that were proved mistaken when the Korean War broke out in 1950.

Military men are not convinced that man will ever be replaced in war or that missiles can be absolutely depended on to hit their targets. Manned bombers can be turned around, can switch targets and can do their own reconnaissance.

Was there no other $780 million of appropriations in the non-defense budget that could have been impounded? And does the President have the right to impound any expenditure that has been specifically authorized by law? Where, it may be asked, is such a right given in the Constitution, except in the provision which requires that the House and Senate be notified of a Presidential veto within ten days after legislation is passed so Congress, as a co-ordinate branch of the government, may express its will? Queen Pledges Utmost to Gain World Arms Cut

LONDON (AP) —Queen Elizabeth II pledged today that Britain will do its utmost to achieve world disarmament despite the Soviet Union's "nuclear tests on a massive scale in defiance of world opinion."

Opening the new session of Parliament with her traditional speech written by Prime Minister Macmillan's Conservative government, she said the government also will continue to negotiate for a Berlin settlement "which will preserve the security and freedom of the people of West Berlin."

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) —Muharem Dautovic is suing the Yugoslav government for damages because a bear attacked his wife.

The wife was badly mauled while herding sheep. Muharem contended in court that because of the game preservation laws, the bears have so multiplied that they have become a danger to both man and livestock.

AREA OF FOREST FIRE—A welcome early afternoon rain Monday aided more than 200 volunteers and forest rangers in bringing a raging forest fire in the Hoophole Mountain area near Samsonville under control. Aaron Van De Bogart of Wittenberg, area forest ranger, said early today that he was heading back into the burned out area to make sure some of the still smoldering sections would not flare up again.

It was estimated that nearly 200 acres on a three-mile front along High Point in the Town of Olive were burned out. The cause of the blaze was undetermined. Volunteers returning from the forest fire area Monday night said the fire was under control at about 6 p. m. and that a dozen or more men were checking isolated spots where leaves and fallen trees were still smoldering. 500 Fight Fire To Save Homes

SIERRA MADRE, Calif. (AP) —More than 500 firefighters battled today to save 25 to 50 homes in Pasadena Glen Canyon near Sierra Madre from a roaring brush fire. The homes were evacuated Monday night. Winds up to 30 miles an hour whipped the fire but decreased in velocity Monday night, fire officials said. The blaze still was out of control and has blackened 700 acres of valuable watershed. It started at noon Monday.

Approximately 7,400 persons lost their lives in fires during 1959.

Jets Patrolling Katanga Frontier

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The U.N. command said today five Swedish jets are patrolling the Katanga frontier to "deter" Katanga planes from attacking forces of the central Congo government.

The announcement did not make clear, however, whether U.N. forces would take any action against central government troops which the Katanga government claims have invaded the secessionist province and are razing villages and murdering women and children.

Premier Cyrille Adoula announced a virtual declaration of war against Katanga Monday. The premier said the Leopoldville government had launched a "police action" to liquidate Katanga's secession.

JFK May Come To Help Wagner In NY Thursday

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner's campaign camp got a boost today from word that President Kennedy may come here Thursday to lend a hand to the mayor's bid for a third four-year term.

Wagner, who called at the White House last Friday, said then that Kennedy gave him enthusiastic support.

Administration sources said in Washington Monday night that Kennedy was thinking of coming here to help Wagner.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has visited New York City to give a plug to the campaign of Wagner's Republican opponent, State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz.

Lefkowitz today accused Wagner of converting the city's welfare program "into a poorly managed, wasteful drain" on the city's resources.

Lefkowitz said in a statement that "welfare payments have been used to subsidize rather than to clear away the slums that breed misery, juvenile delinquency and crime and to underwrite a mass return of the sweatshops."

Welfare costs have risen more than $100 million since Wagner took office, Lefkowitz said, and now total $246 million or $1 of every $10 "in the city's record-breaking, back-breaking budget."

Departure of Red Ships Hints End Of Nuclear Tests

LONDON (AP) — Moscow Radio said a convoy of 10 transport ships and ice breakers was forming today in the Kara Sea to leave arctic waters via the Straits of Novaya Zemlya — the island site of the Soviet Union's recent series of nuclear weapon tests. The broadcast seemed to hint that the series either had ended as expected with the 50-megaton blast recorded Monday, or was about to end.

Will Is Settled

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A settlement has been reached in the contest over actress Joan Davis' will. Her ex-husband, St. Wills, 57, receives assets worth $52,000. The actress' daughter, Beverly Colbert, 27, receives the rest of the more than $1-million estate in a compromise disclosed Monday.

Deaths

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — Thomas Kennedy Jr., son of the president of the United Mine Workers of America and chief counsel for Districts 1, 7 and 9 of the UMW, died Monday after a short illness. Kennedy, a brother-in-law of David McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers, also was counsel for the miners' health and welfare fund.

MERIDEN, Conn. (AP)—James B. Kennedy, 77, a member of the dance team of Kennedy and Kramer who appeared in vaudeville in the United States, Europe and South America, died Monday of a heart attack. Kennedy joined a touring minstrel show as a youth and later turned to dancing and teamed with his wife, the late Maude Kramer. He was born in Meriden.

AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP—A 1961 Kingston High School graduate, Thomas F. Valeo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Valeo of Route 4, Box 240, Kingston will receive one of three scholarships presented annually by Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League. The scholarship fund is provided from the proceeds of the annual Marine Ball. This year's event, the 15th, will be held November 11 at Sportsman's Park, Rosendale. Making the presentation to young Valeo is Attorney Richard Griggs, (left) scholarship chairman of the detachment.

Kingston Youth Receives Marine Scholarship Grant

Thomas F. Valeo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Valeo of Route 4, Kingston has been awarded a Marine Corps League scholarship. It was announced today by Harold G. Dohnken, commander of Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League.

Young Valeo is a 1961 graduate of Kingston High School. While attending high school, he served as president, as well as treasurer of the Student Council. He was a member of the Key Club, Ski Club, football and ski teams. Young Valeo is now attending Syracuse University. He was selected for the scholarship award by the Ulster Detachment's scholarship committee, headed by Attorney Richard W. Griggs.

In making the award Commandant Dohnken said, "Ulster Detachment Marine Corps League is extremely pleased to be able to make this scholarship award to Thomas F. Valeo, and on behalf of the Ulster Detachment, I wish to thank our countless friends and patrons whose generous support of the Annual Marine Corps League Birthday Ball has made this award possible. It is our policy to make yearly scholarship awards to deserving high school graduates of Ulster County out of the proceeds of our Annual Birthday Ball."

The 15th Annual Marine Corps League Birthday Ball will be held at Sportsman's Park in the Town of Rosendale on November 11. Tickets may be obtained in advance at Schryver's Tavern, Joyce-Shirley Post 1386, VFW, or from members of Ulster Detachment, at Royal Grill, Dawkins' Grocery, Shamrock Tavern.

Schick to Retire From Utility on November First

George H. Schick of 18 Reynolds Street will begin his retirement on November 1 after more than 41 years' service with Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation.

Schick joined Central Hudson on February 7, 1920 as an inspector and later that year he became a meter tester.

He became assistant meter supervisor in 1928, was promoted to meter test supervisor in 1931 and was named test foreman in 1939.

Before joining Central Hudson, Schick served in World War I. He left Kingston with Company M, a unit of the 10th New York Infantry, which was split up at Spartanburg, N. C., and he was transferred to the 27th Division.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Selective demand produced a spotty stock market advance in moderate trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .40 at 258.90 with industrials up .60, rails up .40 and utilities off .10.

Gains of fractions to a point or so outnumbered losses in the same range.

The market was higher from the start and held its gains fairly well.

Steels, encouraged by the halting of a three-week decline in steel production, made limited gains. Tobacco, drugs and most chemicals advanced.

Nonferrous metals drifted off. Oils were mixed. Aircraft-missiles moved up on balance. Electronics presented an uneven pattern.

Third quarter earnings reports showed favorable comparisons with a year ago, for the most part, and predictions were that the upturn in profits would continue.

Chrysler, up more than a point, seemed buoyed by hopes of a labor settlement.

Test Made . . .

gan its wind-borne sweep around the world.

Up to Winds

U.S. Weather Bureau specialists said wind patterns indicate the immediate fallout was being carried southeastward from its point of detonation in the Soviet Arctic.

Robert List, one of the bureau's fallout specialists, said the mass of radioactive ash would likely swing east ultimately and would "reach the North American continent in three to five days, depending on the winds."

The gigantic blast—which the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission estimated at 50 megatons—may have doubled the fallout unleashed by all the previous blasts in the Soviet series which began Sept. 1.

Until Monday's explosion, the Soviets were estimated to have detonated bombs with a total yield of more than 50 megatons of energy—including the big Oct. 25 explosion which U.S. scientists now estimate at 25 megatons. A megaton is equal to one million tons of TNT in energy.

Very Dirty Bomb

Thus, with a single 50-megaton bomb, the Russians almost equalled the explosive force of more than two dozen earlier tests. The blast could have created almost as much lingering fallout as all the previous tests, depending on how "dirty" it was.

Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, a nuclear scientist who is outside the government, said he believes the monster bomb was a very dirty one.

Lingering fallout is the long-lasting radioactive atoms spewed into the stratosphere, to be blown around the world and finally to settle to earth.

What does this amount of fallout mean to public health? The U.S. Public Health Service said last week in a statement anticipating the 50-megaton explosion that the fallout from it and the previous tests should not reach levels that would cause any undue concern.

Exaggerated: Ike

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said Monday he thinks the danger of atmospheric pollution by nuclear tests "has been greatly exaggerated."

Speaking in San Antonio, Tex., Eisenhower said the advice he had when president led him to believe tests could continue for many more years without danger.

Another former president, Harry S. Truman, shrugged off the Soviet test with the comment in Chicago: "We set off a tremendous one in the Pacific one time."

Truman likely was referring to the hydrogen bomb device that wiped out an atoll in the Marshall Islands in 1952.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said the Soviets took a "wholly unnecessary step" in exploding the heavy-weight bomb. "If they thought they could intimidate the world they're wrong."

"It was a senseless and pointless thing to do and a wholly unnecessary step that couldn't add to technological, scientific or military knowledge," Rusk told newsmen in Honolulu where he stopped on his flight to Japan.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said in Syracuse, N.Y., that he thought the United States should resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere to guarantee the nation's security.

N. Y. Milk . . .

zation, moved to soften the blow to dairymen's purses.

The league's president, Glenn Talbott, urged U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman to permit amendment of the Northern New Jersey-New York federal milk marketing order, which prescribes the uniform rate of payment to producers.

Talbott said producer payments could be depressed by five cents per hundred pounds (46.5 quarts) a day for each day of the strike.

The uniform rate of payment is a balancing of prices paid for a balancing of prices paid for milk used for fluid purposes and milk used in manufacturing products such as cheese.

A Teamsters local in Northern New Jersey extended its contract with milk dealers for another 24 hours at 4 p.m. Monday. The contract between another local and dealers in Westchester County, expires tonight at midnight.

Emergency distribution of 400,000 quarts of milk a day has continued to hospitals, nursing homes, schools and other institutions.

Unity Needed, GOP Message . . .

born out of hard work of our forefathers, Humphreys said the Republican party was the "one instrument" which could accomplish this.

The one thing which can continue our freedom is to keep "responsible people in government" and that can only be accomplished through the work and efforts of the party by hard work. The Republican party was founded on its regard of freedom and equality of all men and Humphreys said despite the cry of the opposition, the Republican party has always stood for progressive government, rights of the laboring man, and he cited the fact that it was a Republican administration that was responsible for establishment of the Labor Department.

To point out his appeal to all members of the Republican party, Humphreys went back to a personal experience when he was but seventeen. Interested in the candidacy of a man running for Congress, Humphreys said he organized his precinct, went out and worked in the area, called on voters, distributed literature and as a result his precinct came close to a unanimous vote for the candidate. In other precincts where little real effort was made, the voters failed to come out and the candidate was defeated. This simple illustration pointed out the benefit of hard work at the precinct, town or ward level.

Has Faith in America

The Republican party has faith in the economic potential of America, and the speaker urged all Republicans to go out and work for the election of the Republican ticket so that the people of the country may enjoy the benefits of freedom and not be "dominated" by government.

Chairman Wilson, following the dinner, presented the guests at the speaker's table and read telegrams and letters from numerous persons who had been unable to attend the dinner. Among those who were not able to attend were Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth, a former Ulster County Republican chairman; Federal Judge John M. Cashin; Senator Kenneth B. Keating; Jacob J. Lavitt, Governor Rockefeller and others.

Supreme Court Justice Louis G. Brandeis, former Ulster County Judge, now a candidate for election to the Supreme Court bench for a full 14-year term, was presented and spoke briefly.

Yery, Jr., Walter Dunham and Supervisor A. Richard Terwilliger.

At the conclusion of the program there was a floor show and dancing.

Members of the dinner committee who assisted Sherwood E. Davis were Mrs. John Salapatis and Frank W. Hommel. Supervisor Peter J. Savago was ticket chairman; Frank W. Hommel, program chairman; Mrs. Walter Dunham, arrangements chairman enough to do it." The capital lies almost at sea level. A storm tide striking the coast would meet no resistance except from a sea wall which forecasters said would be inadequate. The shoreline is barren and swampy.

Flee Wooden Homes

Residents of Belize fled from their wooden homes to public shelters Monday night. Power failed at 4 a.m. as first gales from the hurricane began to lash the colony. A city official reported: "We look for a severe lashing."

The hurricane, with winds reaching as high as 200 miles an hour in gusts, probably will spread flood waters throughout Guatemala and the Yucatan Peninsula before breaking up against interior mountain ranges, Clark said.

Hattie collided with a strengthening high pressure front and swung toward Central America after first threatening to move into Cuba and South Florida.

Silver Is Fine for Home
But Risky as Investment

Q) "I've noticed that a shortage of silver is developing and that prices for the metal may be in for a rise. What caused this condition? If silver does advance in price, wouldn't that be of benefit to the silver stocks?"
D. M.

A) You're an observant person. An increase in the price of silver would be of considerable benefit to silver producers, and silver shares — reflecting this change — could easily sell at higher levels.

Years ago, you may recall, Congress passed a law requiring the Treasury to buy silver offered at a fixed price — at that time higher than the market. As a result, the Treasury took in vast amounts of silver which it really did not need.

After the war, this trend began to reverse itself. Less silver was mined; and increased demand for silver in coinage, tableware, electronics, solders and photography caused the Treasury's inventories of the metal to fall.

In recent years consumption has actually exceeded production by a sizable figure, and today the excess demand points to higher prices not far ahead. If this occurs, silver stocks may rise and you and others who foresaw the situation could profit.

However, there is one thing I should point out. Most silver stocks have already gone a long way toward discounting a possible price increase, and they are vulnerable to any sudden change in the outlook. If you are sure you can afford to speculate, a small commitment in stocks like Lucky Friday or Sunshine Mining might prove rewarding.

The ordinary investor does not belong in situations of this kind and I advise him to steer clear of them.

Q) "I bought Standard Kollsman in the 50's and now have a loss. Should I hold or sell?"
H. C., S. W. & B. H.

A) Standard Kollsman (NYSE) has recently been weak, as have almost all electronics issues. However, the outlook remains good, and the stock should come back. I advise you to hold.

List Marquette Quarterly Income, $1.29 Per Share

CHICAGO—Marquette Cement Manufacturing Company today reported that net income for the quarter ended September 30 was $4,380,835 or $1.29 per common share.

This compares with $4,071,794 or $1.54 per common share for the same period last year. Receipts for the quarter just closed were $27,367,030 against $20,690,692 a year ago.

Marquette's area plant is the North American Division at Catskill.

For the first nine months of this year, the company reported receipts amounting to $61,300,484 on which net income of $8,258,390 or $2.42 per common share was realized. In the same period last year receipts were $43,691,668 and net income $7,503,387 or $2.81 per common share.

Marquette President W. A. Wecker stated that prolonged building trades strikes in large eastern metropolitan centers and reduced volume of highway construction business in the company's midwest and southern markets, coupled with delay in highway work caused by excessive rainfall, were among factors contributing to a 1 per cent decrease in shipments for the first nine months of the year.

"For all other categories of cement use," he said, "we now expect that the rates of gain to date, as reflected by bookings and shipments, will continue throughout the final quarter. If so, all but a small portion of the loss in highway business will be offset and full-year volume will approximate that of 1960."

As to earnings for the year, Wecker anticipated that the per-share amount will not reach that of 1960. He gave as the reasons for this, substantial additions to distributing costs in some sections of the market and higher costs for wages, salaries and fuel.

Go to Primaries

to unite the Republican party, not divide it.

Nevertheless, Nixon mentioned only Rockefeller during his formal talk.

The former vice president said he was "mighty proud that the Republican party has a man of the capabilities, stature and voter appeal as the governor of New York."

In last year's presidential race, Rockefeller entered no primaries, although he said he would accept a draft. Goldwater was a favorite son candidate from his home state, but neither fought Nixon in the final stages.

Rockefeller has said he will make no announcements regarding the 1964 presidential race until after 1962 state election in New York, when he will be up for reelection.

Other Comments

In other comments, Nixon said: He agreed with Rockefeller's statement of last Friday that the United States should resume testing of nuclear weapons in the atmosphere, regardless of the views of other nations in the world, in order to prevent Soviet Russia from gaining military superiority.

He felt a properly trained peace corps would make contributions to backward nations of the world but the present, youthful members of the corps were not equipped to deal with "hardcore Communist operatives."

If the United Nations admitted Red China, a massive public opinion could develop in the United States against the world body and lead to American withdrawal from the U.N.

Must Be Behind

tends a welcome to such an outlaw as Red China is today.

Republican leaders were jubilant over Eisenhower's appearance in behalf of John W. Goode, the lone Republican in Saturday's special congressional election.

Goode, 38, and four Democrats seek the seat from which Democrat Paul Kilday resigned last month to become a federal judge.

Goode's chief opponent is State Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez, 45, who has the backing of President Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

475 Are Present For Ulster GOP Dinner Saturday

A record crowd of 475 persons attended the Town of Ulster Republicans Club spaghetti dinner Saturday night at the East Kingston Firehouse.

Sal Castiglione, town candidate for councilman on this year's ticket who served as chairman of the successful event, reported that 250 reservations had been made for the dinner.

One of Best Ever

"The event certainly went down into the history of the GOP club as one of the greatest successes ever," Castiglione said today. He referred to the club rally held in September when more than 20 persons were on hand.

"Judging from the response to both the dinner and rally," Castiglione continued, "the interest in the GOP club is certainly keen and we look for this to reflect in the results at the polls on Tuesday, Nov. 7."

Town Area Candidates Present.
The entire town Republican slate was on hand Saturday in addition to the Kingston Republican ticket.

Extending greetings for the town GOP club were Salvatore J. Castiglione, former tax collector and present candidate for councilman; Alexander J. Banyo, supervisor; Laura Every, town clerk who has held that post for 10 years; William Costello, tax collector; Edgar P. Elliott, superintendent of highways; Leroy W. Crosby, assessor, four years; Timothy Troyan, assessor, two years and Arthur A. Reilly, justice of the peace.

Other Workers

John J. Schwenk, GOP candidate for mayor in Kingston, was accompanied by other running mates including Benjamin Schecter, alderman-at-large; Raymond J. Mino, district attorney and Joseph L. Saccoman, city judge.

Other committee workers planning Saturday's successful dinner were:

Laura Every, door tickets; Augusta Ellsworth, Helen Troyan, tickets; Mr. and Mrs. William Costello, table decorations; Robert Sledge, Chester Duffley, Ted Olsen, James Allen, Nollie Irwin, Donald Crespinio, Alfred Mazzuca, refreshments; Edgar Elliott, John Nagy and Frank DeCicco, chairs and tables; Supervisor Alexander J. Banyo, Arthur Reilly and Timothy Troyan, welcome; John Crespinio, traffic control; Anthony Cicoria, August Cohen, Roy Crosby, James Costello, organizations; Ellsworth Edwards, entertainment and Irwin J. Thomas, publicity.

Apalachin Site Sold

APALACHIN, N.Y. (AP) — The site of the Apalachin gangland convention has been sold for a reported $125,000 to a Binghamton businessman who plans to live on the plush estate.

Walter L. Gardner Jr., operator of an automotive-equipment business, has contracted to buy the house and property from Mr. and Mrs. LaRue Quick, who were defeated in their plan to make a tourist attraction of the site.

The Quicks bought the 11-room mansion and property in 1959 from the family of the late Joseph Barbara Sr., who had been host to 60 hoodlums and friends on the estate in November 1957.

Aid Cars Halt Autobahn Trips

BERLIN (AP)—The U. S. Army appears to have stopped sending its military assistance cars along the lifeline autobahn between Berlin and West Germany.

An informed source said no military assistance cars had made the 110-mile trip between West Berlin and West Germany for more than 30 hours since one was turned back by the Soviets early Monday.

Confusion Possible

West Berlin authorities had reported the cars moving without hindrance, but that may have been confusion with other U. S. military traffic. Numerous jeeps and heavy vehicles as well as staff sedans have been traveling over the superhighway in the move of a U. S. engineer company from West Berlin to West Germany.

U. S. authorities would not comment on the report the trips had been called off.

The source for the report assumed they had been halted while U. S. officials discussed the matter with Soviet army authorities.

The Americans sent the patrols along the autobahn to give assistance to American motorists who had trouble while traveling through Communist East Germany. The Soviets contend such U. S. patrols are unnecessary because the Red army is responsible for the route.

Tanks in Readiness

U. S. and Soviet tanks remained in readiness only 10 minutes apart on each side of the Communists' wall through Berlin.

While American and Soviet officials in Moscow discussed identification procedures on the Berlin border, the Soviets covered their tanks with canvas. The American tank crews, who had been sleeping inside their vehicles since last Friday, moved into tents.

The checkpoint at Friedrichstrasse was manned by a mere handful of U. S. military policemen. Two armored personnel carriers were parked 100 yards away. Spectators who had been present day and night for almost a week disappeared.

U. S. government civilians still were not allowed to enter East Berlin pending settlement of the identification question.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Public Service Commission has approved a rate increase, effective Wednesday, for 171 customers of the Nichols Water Co., of Nichols, Tioga County. The increases will range from $1.40 to $2.50 semi-annually for most customers. The higher charges are for customers who purchase water on a contract basis. The firm's 67 customers who have a metered water-supply are not affected.

French Settlers Cheer as Bombs Blast in Algiers

ALGIER (AP) — French settlers cheered excitedly Monday night as their underground army exploded a record number of plastic bombs in Algiers. Two Algerians were killed and 16 others injured.

More than 60 plastic bombs went off, and Europeans greeted each blast with cries of joy from their balconies. It was the biggest number ever set off in the Algerian capital in one evening.

The bombs were planted by the Secret Army Organization of right-wing French settlers which is trying to whip up another uprising against President Charles de Gaulle and his plans to give Algeria independence. No arrests were reported.

A few hours earlier machinegun bullets, apparently fired from a moving car, killed Louis Pelissier, a French police commissioner. He was the fourth police officer slain in Algiers in the past six months.

In Oran, kidnappers—apparently French—seized a 21-year-old Algerian and left him in the woods with serious knife wounds.

A Secret Army radio broadcast came on the air in Oran after transmission cables of the French television station were cut by one bomb blast. A message in Arabic over the wavelength of the television voice band called on Moslems to stay off the streets Wednesday, the seventh anniversary of the Algerian rebellion.

The upsurge of terrorism added to the worries of officials already jittery over the possibility of a blood bath. The rebel National Liberation Front (FLN) has called for the Moslems to demonstrate in an effort to speed up the resumption of peace and independence negotiations between the French and the FLN.

Trial Underway For Eight Men In Bus Burning

AMNISTON, Ala. (AP) — The trial of eight men charged in the mob burning of a bus—the first outburst of violence against "Freedom Riders" in Alabama—begins in federal court today.

The eight face charges of interfering with interstate transportation, a crime punishable by a 20-year prison term and a $10,000 fine on conviction. They also are charged with conspiracy.

The indictments grew out of two waves of violence May 14 that first blocked the departure of a regularly scheduled Greyhound bus, then destroyed it.

Among the 17 persons on the bus were nine Freedom Riders—five Negroes and four white persons—on a tour of the South testing bus station segregation.

The defendants, all of the Amniston area, are Kenneth L. Adams, 41; Frank B. Johnson, 42; Jerome Byron Couch, 25; Jerry Williamson, 23; William Chappell, 40; Jerry Ronald Eason, 23; Frank Tolbert, 54 and Roger Dale Cough, 19.

Conservationist Will Speak at Craftsmen Club

Following the regular business meeting of the Craftsmen's Club of Rondout Lodge at the Masonic Temple on Thursday, Chet Joy will be guest speaker. Joy, well known in outdoor circles as an ardent angler and dedicated conservationist, has authored many articles on both fishing and conservation. Some have been published in the Kingston Daily Freeman, others have gone out to national levels. His deep interest in conservation of natural resources stems from the Civilian Conservation Corps and the New York State Forestry Service in the 1930's, a period when he covered much of the Catskill Mountain region in gypsy moth, white pine blister control, trail and stream improvement and building of forest fire control roads, ski trails and campsites. His topic will be a multi-purpose approach, A Decade for Direction and Decision in Conservation. Following his lecture films will be shown on area trout fishing and outdoor activities.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Illness—and its prevention—grows more costly. Individuals don't have to be told this. And business is finding it more expensive, too. Both are well aware of the rise in medical and hospital costs in recent years.

More firms are offering employee medical services. This grows both more extensive and more expensive. Companies also are increasingly involved in meeting all or part of their employees' health insurance costs.

Care Improved

Medical fees and hospital care grow more expensive because costs themselves have gone up but also because care is increasingly being widened and improved. Hospitals have higher operating costs and pay employees more. They also offer services today with equipment unknown a few years back. New drugs, new doctoring and nursing techniques, new equipment—all push up costs. Adding to the total outlay is that Americans, with increased incomes, are seeking more medical care all the time. Each year a larger share of the spending is for prevention rather than cure. This all adds up to more than $16 billion a year that Americans now pay for medical service.

Many individuals have had to go into debt to meet costs in major emergencies. But many have had help from various sources little used by earlier generations.

Pay Out $3 Billion

One is from health insurance payments. Insurance companies are estimated to have paid out $3 billion in benefits in 1960. A second aid to individuals faced with illness or accidents is the growing role of corporate medical departments.

Those offer services all the way from preventative shots for influenza and other epidemics and patching up of on-job injuries to regular and complete medical examinations—the latter usually for the top echelon of executives or key employees.

The National Industrial Conference Board finds the cost of such services up more than 10 per cent in the last five years for 96 companies queried. The firms now pay about $17.5 million a year to provide medical facilities for 890,000 employees.

Provisions Included

Included are physical examinations, visiting nurse service, on-job nursing care, accident prevention programs, dental care and medical supplies and equipment. Excluded are company supported health insurance programs or sick-leave pay.

Higher salaries in the medical departments, increased supply and equipment costs, and expanded medical facilities are cited as reasons for the rise in spending.

Companies employing more than 10,000 persons report visits that range from four to eight a year per worker. Visits range between eight and ten in the smaller firms.

Editors—Sam Dawson will be on vacation Nov. 1-14, inclusive. There will be no substitute for his column, which will be resumed Nov. 15.

Advisory Group Meets Nov. 6th On School Plan

All members of the Citizens Advisory Committee who were appointed by the Saugerties Board of Education to study the problem of building needs in the district are requested to attend an important meeting which has been called by Miss Grace Anderson, chairman, for Monday, Nov. 6, at the Main Street School at 7:30 p. m. Members of the Citizens Interest Committee and other lay people who have recently joined the group may attend also.

At its last meeting on October 16 a preliminary fact sheet for use by the workers who will contact the public was presented, and it will be supplemented and completed at the coming meeting. Also a report from the committee who have been working on a site for the proposed elementary school in the northwest section of the district will be given.

The Advisory Committee has pledged itself to economy and honesty in the forthcoming presentation of a bond issue for the needed classroom space for the children of the Saugerties School District, Miss Anderson said. Any questions or suggestions of the public will be accepted and considered by the committee if contact is made through Miss Anderson or Norman Nitschke, co-chairman.

Psychologist Will Be P-T-A Speaker On November 15th

The November meeting of the Saugerties Central School Parent-Teacher Association will be held in the Glasco School auditorium Wednesday, Nov. 15, at 8 p. m.

Dr. Esther Morgan, part-time school psychologist, will be speaker for the evening. She holds a B. A. degree from State Teachers College, Westchester, Pa.; an MA degree from Columbia; an MA in psychology from Syracuse; and a Ph.D. in education from the University of Florida.

Her experience includes teaching at Smithtown College at Oneonta; school psychologist at West Hartford; school psychologist at the Young Laboratory School in Gainesville, Florida; clinician at the psychological clinic of the University of Florida; school psychologist in Orlando County, Fla.; and associate professor of child development at New Paltz, the position which she presently holds.

Dr. Morgan has certification as a psychologist in both the states of New York and Florida. She has also had extensive experience with summer camps as a counselor and as a director.

P-T-A President, Mrs. Howard France, announces that membership co-chairmen, Leona Hogan and Robert Shapiro, are taking memberships and that parents who did not join at the get acquainted meetings Oct. 18 and 19 may apply for membership through their children in school. Also, memberships will be taken at the November meeting.

At the October executive committee meeting, the dates for the P-T-A benefit movie were set for Nov. 29 and 30. Miss Evans will be general chairman for this project and details will be announced shortly.

The officers encourage all to attend the Nov. 15 meeting at the Glasco School. Refreshments will be served under the chairmanship of Mrs. Angelo Sasso Jr.

Miss Notarnicola Honored at Shower

A surprise bridal shower was held recently for Miss Josephine Notarnicola at the Mt. Marion Inn, with Mrs. Shirley Carlino, Mrs. Janet Burgher and Miss Diane Notarnicola as hostesses.

Attending were the Mmes. Thomas Carlino, Joseph Notarnicola Sr., Elizabeth Notarnicola, Fred Thorne, Ralph Grimaldi, Rose Carlino, Stanley Ricketson, Bruce McLaughlin, Robert VanBarren, George Fisher, Benny Notarnicola, Harry Smith, Francis Kugelmann, Arthur Smith, Jerry Smith, William VanderBeek, Philip Creyaneck, John Testa.

Also the Mmes. Lillian Everett, Joseph Fabiano, Peter Fondino, Sam Appa, Michael Appa, Ralph Appa, John Mayone, Pat Mayone, Joseph Mayone, John Hughes, Thomas Mayone, Frank Bruno, Rose Sasso, Donald Secreto, Marge Martin, Frank Secreto, Patsy Buonfiglio, Rose Lewis, Alva Massi, Pauline Nezhich and Carolyn Breithaupt.

Also the Misses Trinda Fisher, Jane Anderson and Elaine Notarnicola.

Unable to attend were the Mmes. John Stoly, Albert Fabiano, Theresa Fabiano, Louis Bruno and Kathryn Riccio. Also the Misses Ruth Mower, Kathryn Coby, Nancy Erceg, Delores Leonard, Thelma Ferraro, and Marge Notarnicola.

The hall was decorated in pink and white and a buffet luncheon was served.

Barbershop Harmony Is Concert Feature

For those who enjoy barbershop harmony "The Beaux" will be featured with the Poughkeepsie Community Mixed Chorus Saturday evening, Nov. 18 in a benefit concert for the Rolland E. Heermance Scholarship Fund in the Saugerties High School Auditorium.

The group of 12 singers under the direction of Albert G. Hunter is a crowd pleaser wherever they are heard. The concert will feature the chorus of 140 voices in a varied program.

Tickets may be purchased in advance from members of the Catskill Glee Club or Treble Choraliers or at the various stores in Saugerties.

Events Scheduled

Facts about atomic fallout and ways and means of self protection through the building of shelters will be given at a meeting Thursday, Nov. 9, 7:30 p. m. at the Saugerties High School.

Guest speaker will be Major H. Edgar Timmerman, Ulster County Civil Defense Director. There will be no admission charge. The program is under the auspices of the adult education program and the local director of civil defense.

The Sigma Club of Saugerties High School will hold a food sale Saturday 9:30 a. m. until noon in the store next to Jacob's Men Shop, Partition Street, Saugerties.

Slate Ellenville Meeting to Form AHRC Sub-Unit

A meeting is scheduled Thursday 8 p. m. in the assembly room of Ellenville Central School to organize an Ellenville Sub-Chapter of Ulster County Association for the Help of Retarded Children.

John L. Hoffer, president of the county chapter, will conduct the business meeting. Joseph Qualtrio, vice president and a member of the board of directors of the state chapter, will give an outline of the program in Ulster County and a report of the state convention he attended last week in Elmira.

Refreshments will be served after the meeting, at which time there will be an opportunity to talk with the officers, with other parents, and with teachers of both the trainable and the educable groups.

Parents, teachers, and friends are urged to attend this meeting to find out what can be done, what has been done, and what needs to be done for retarded children.

RAYMOND J. MINO

Republican Candidate for County Judge

Sponsored by the Lawyers' Committee for Raymond J. Mino

SAUGERTIES GOP TOWN CANDIDATE

WILLIAM A. WOESTENDIEK

A dedicated community leader, William A. Woestendiek of Pine Grove, completing his full two-year term as town assessor, is the Republican candidate for Receiver of Taxes and Assessments, a new post added to the town administration under the First Class town system.

A resident of Saugerties for 34 years, he is prominent in township firemanic activities and has served as president of Centerville Fire Company from 1945 to 1961. Prior to that he served as chief of the company for six years and is now also a member of the Exempt Firemen's Association in Saugerties.

In recent years, he has been in semi-retirement and operated a dairy and poultry farm on his property for some time.

In the past he seeks, he would be responsible for the collection of town and school taxes.

His civic activities include 13 years as a school trustee in the former Pine Grove School District, and at one time he served as president and secretary of Saugerties Lions Club.

Mr. Woestendiek has a record of 15 years service with the Boy Scouts of Saugerties District. He held the post of district chairman and district finance director. At that time he was affiliated with Boy Scout Troop 31, Centerville.

His wide knowledge of the area and ability to get along with people will make him invaluable in the office he seeks.

(Sponsored by Saugerties Town Republican Committee)

SAUGERTIES GOP TOWN CANDIDATE

WILLIAM R. BROWN

A proficient member of the town administration, William R. Brown of West Saugerties seeks to succeed himself as Saugerties town highway superintendent on the Republican ticket.

He has served the township in that position since his appointment in September 1957 and has handled his office with foresight and integrity. Superintendent Brown was selected to full terms in November 1957 and again in 1959.

Mr. Brown has proven his ability to cope with the intricate and sometimes insurmountable tasks of snow removal and maintenance of town roads in the most economical manner for the town taxpayers.

Prior to his association with the town highway department, he had over eight years experience as an employee of the State Highway Department.

He also has a record of outstanding accomplishments in civic activities and veterans affairs.

His reelection would add to the town administration another experienced department supervisor of exceptional ability.

His decisions on highway expenditures have always been governed by the taxpayers ability to pay and his economies in administration have not jeopardized the high rating of town roads which are said to be the best in the county.

SADIE HAWKINS DAY — NOVEMBER 25th

The first national Sadie Hawkins Days were celebrated more than 20 years ago. Since then, the thing has spread, until last year there were some 800 of these ghastly events, ranging all the way from great universities, to small high schools, to just scattered groups of dateless girls.

Sadie Hawkins Day is the only holiday on which any girl can up and chase a boy she doesn't even know, and still be a lady. There have been many -sob- marriages as a result of Sadie Hawkins Day races, dances, and thereafter. Some of you are grateful. Others write me letters, like "I met a boy at a Sadie Hawkins Day Dance, 8 years ago, and married him. He turned out to be a bum. What are you going to do about it?" Dear readers, there's nothing I can do about it. It's gotten out of hand!!

Delmar Man New Eastern Manager For Phone Firm

Harry J. Love has been appointed division manager of the New York Telephone Company's Eastern Area effective November 1, according to an announcement made today by R. W. Scofield, general manager. Love succeeds Donald R. McGuirk who has resigned to accept a position as commercial staff administrator with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company at New York.

Love, a native of Binghamton, served in World War II as a B-29 pilot with the 20th Air Force. After graduation from Duke University and Albany Law School he was in newspaper work at Durham, N. C., later coming to Endicott as news editor of Station WENE. He joined the Telephone Company at Albany in 1952, holding positions of increasing responsibility there, at Poughkeepsie, Syracuse and New York before returning to Albany in his present assignment as general commercial supervisor at the company's upstate headquarters.

Love is a member of the New York State Bar Association and the Albany Country Club. He is married to the former Marion Dilts of Cleveland, Ohio. They have a son, James, a student at Bethlehem Central Junior High School. The Loves reside at 210 Winne Road, Delmar.

Is Disappointed Kaye Won't Talk In League Debate

Republican city chairman Howard C. St. John today expressed disappointment that Democratic alderman-at-large Harold Kaye has declined to appear at the League of Women Voters' candidates' meeting tonight.

St. John said that Benjamin Schecter, Republican candidate for alderman-at-large, had been looking forward to meeting Kaye on the League platform, but now will have to restrict himself to a brief talk instead of full participation in the question and answer period.

St. John said his office had received word yesterday from the League that Kaye would not participate in the program because of a previous commitment.

Hopes for Change
"I hope that Kaye will find some way to switch engagements," St. John declared, "because I can not conceive of any commitment, short of personal family tragedy, taking precedence over a candidate's obligation to make known his views to the voters in this traditional pre-election forum from the League of Women Voters."

The Republican city chairman said he understood that League representatives had contacted Democratic county chairman William Kelly more than a month ago to set a date for the meeting, and confirm participation by the principal Democratic candidates. Furthermore, St. John added, Mr. Kaye has been personally contacted by League representatives three weeks ago, and urged to attend.

Grateful to League
"I want to make clear," St. John said, "the complete respect that we of the Republican Party in Kingston have for the impartial and fair treatment accorded us by the League of Women Voters. While Mr. Schecter cannot very well debate with an absent opponent," St. John pointed out, "he is being afforded an opportunity to express his views on the issues of the campaign, and speak of his qualifications for the position of alderman-at-large. This, the League has made possible by securing a biography of Mr. Kaye which will be read at the meeting."

"For this demonstration of fair and impartial treatment, we thank the League, and would indicate in return, our respect for the rules and regulations which they have established for this very important public service meeting," St. John concluded.

Denied Phone To Report Fire

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—John Gentry ran to the telephone when fire broke out in his home Monday. Someone was talking on the four-party line.

"I told them, 'Please give me the line! My house is on fire!'" Gentry said, "but a man said 'Oh, yeah, we know. My house is on fire, too.'"

Gentry's wife finally ran to a neighbor's house to call firemen. Battalion Chief Robert Howard said he couldn't tell how much of the $2,000 damage was due to the lost time, but the delay "certainly was a factor."

Blast of Siren At Saugerties Starts Parade

A blast of the Saugerties fire siren a 7 o'clock tonight will signal the start of the annual Saugerties Youth Council Halloween parade of costumed marchers through the village streets.

Saugerties Drum Corps will provide music for the marchers. Honorary parade marshal, Pennie Pettinger, Miss Saugerties of 1962 and her attendants, Virginia Roeser and Susan Atkins will ride on the Exempt's fire truck. Powerful lights on the former C. A. Lynch pumper will light the way for the marchers.

Following the parade, the grand march for the judging of costumes will be held in the municipal auditorium. After the judging Frank Vigna and his orchestra will play music for dancing. Free refreshments will be served.

Weds Second Time

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Katherine Thalberg, 26, daughter of actress Norma Shearer and the late movie producer Irving C. Thalberg, was married Monday for the second time.

Her second husband is actor Richard N. Anderson, 35. It was also his second marriage. Judge Harman A. Van Der Zee performed the ceremony in city hall.

Rosendale to Talk On Ordinance on Parking Trailers

A proposed ordinance dealing with the parking of trailer trucks will be discussed at a meeting of the Rosendale Village Board Thursday, Nov. 2, at 8 p. m. in the fire house on Main Street.

The ordinance in general effect would provide that trailer trucks are not to be permitted to park in the village except for the time required for loading or unloading or for the making of minor repairs.

All residents of the village are asked to attend the meeting.

Glancing Over
TV Bill of FareBy CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles H. Brower, president of the big Madison Avenue advertising agency Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborne said in a Chicago speech the other day that the United States should sell democracy to the world with the techniques used to peddle cornflakes and soap.

In the days since I have been watching TV commercials with special interest, attempting to figure out which ones could be adapted easily to hard-selling democracy. And I just don't think it would work. For instance:

Pretty girl stands smiling into camera, holding book marked "Congressional Record," while man's voice is heard singing, "Nine out of 10 Hollywood stars use this document—and life is shinier, lovelier with it."

Man is shown holding a ballot and saying, "For fast, fast, FAST relief from pain of dictatorship use this..."

Native woman is shown looking sadly at a grubby kitchen towel decorated with a map of her country, while an American housewife is smiling at her gleaming towel with its map of the United States. The American housewife says, "Not just clean, but clean clear through."

But no matter how you switch the pitches, they don't seem right. Better we should muddle along with our outworn conservative institutional type of soft-selling our system. It's more convincing—and dignified.

Damage Is $150,000
In Binghamton Fires

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—A $150,000 fire ripped through two downtown stores Monday night shortly after they had closed. Two others were damaged by smoke.

The fire began in the cellar of the Busy Bee Variety Store at Water and Court streets and spread to the adjoining Barbara Moss Women's shop.

No one was in the buildings at the time.

Smoke damaged the J. C. Penney Store and Fowler's Department Store, which occupy other corners of the intersection.

The cause of the fire was not determined.

GOING TOWARDS GOAL—Kathy Scully and Beverly Perry, Red Feather Girls mark score of 62 per cent as the current Community Chest campaign goes well over the halfway point. A total of $111,102 has been collected to date. Goal for the county is $177,000. Most of the contributions have been collected by the advanced gifts and business and industry divisions. The advanced gifts campaign is 85 per cent complete with business and industry 45 per cent complete. Initial returns are now coming in from the commercial division and the residential division. The government division was recently started. (Freeman photo)

Rayburn Going
Back Home Today

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn returns today to his home in Bonham to end his days among "those friends and neighbors who for so long have given me a love and loyalty unsurpassed in any annals."

The decision to move the 79-year-old Texas Democrat, incurably ill with cancer, was announced Monday by Baylor Hospital and Rayburn's administrative assistant, John Holton.

Both statements said there had been no apparent results yet from the drugs and irradiation therapy which doctors said would not cure Rayburn but might prolong his life.

Rayburn entered the hospital Oct. 2, complaining of a backache which he blamed on lumbago.

Holton said he could not disclose, because of a standing request from Rayburn's family, whether the speaker knows the seriousness of his condition.

After his return home, Rayburn will be treated by his personal physician, Dr. Jose Rissler of Bonham.

Holton's statement, issued in behalf of Rayburn's family, said that "in making this decision to return him to Bonham, the determining factor was the speaker's often expressed desire to end his days among, in his words, 'those friends and neighbors who for so long have given me a love and a loyalty unsurpassed in any annals.'"

5-County Library
System's Annual Meeting Is Held

The improvement and development of libraries is essential to the nation's pursuit of excellence, Dr. Elmer R. Smith stressed in speaking to the second annual meeting of Mid-Hudson Libraries at the Nelson House in Poughkeepsie Saturday.

Chairman of Brown University's education department, Dr. Smith addressed 145 library trustees and librarians from the five counties of Columbia, Dutchess, Greene, Putnam and Ulster. Dr. Smith was introduced at the luncheon meeting by Mrs. Gerald Carson of Millerton, vice-president of the library system.

Hugh R. Elwyn of Kingston, system president, presided and reported on the year's progress. A while Harold O. Harlan, director of Mid-Hudson Libraries outlined plans for service to the 43 member libraries.

Finnish Minister
Sent to Parley
On Defense Pact

LIHUE, Kauai, Hawaii, (AP)—President Urho K. Kekkonen of Finland sent his foreign minister home Monday to handle a Soviet request for a joint defense pact against West Germany.

Foreign Minister Ahti Karjalainen headed by plane today for Helsinki by way of San Francisco.

The Finnish president stayed behind to complete his visit to Hawaii. He was to leave this afternoon for Los Angeles, last stop on his tour of the United States. The U.S.S.R. called on Finland to join with it to thwart what the Soviets called a growing West German threat to use the Baltic Sea as a jumping off place for war. The move was seen as an effort to bring independent Finland in line with Warsaw Pact nations.

Kekkonen and his official party would not comment on the proposal.

It took several hours to get word to Kekkonen on the Soviet bid. He was sightseeing on the east coast of Maui Island, about 130 miles from Honolulu.

Kekkonen conferred with Karjalainen and other officials on the beach after an urgent telephone call to the foreign minister from Finland's ambassador to the United Nations.

Karjalainen then announced he had been ordered home.

Stalin's Troublesome Ghost Removed

Khrush Stifles Critics as Red
Congress Does His Dirty Work

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—At the very moment when he needed the utmost freedom and support at home in dealing with the West on Berlin, Premier Khrushchev has stifled his critics and gotten the full support of the Russian Communist party.

For him the throwing of Stalin's body out of its tomb meant getting a troublesome ghost off his back. Stalin died in 1953 exactly at the end of an era. Khrushchev took over at the beginning of a new one which needed new ideas for dealings at home and abroad.

Albanians Followed Line
So long as Stalin remained a Communist saint, entombed in Moscow Square alongside Lenin, those who disagreed with Khrushchev's way of doing things, when they differed from Stalin's, could accuse him of heresy.

This is exactly what was done by the Red Chinese, the Albanians, and some of the old Bolshevik companions of Stalin, like Vyacheslav Molotov who, although reduced to a minor position, this year still condemned Khrushchev's tactics.

If Khrushchev, in anger or exasperation, had sought by himself to downgrade Stalin or banish him from his tomb to get rid of the memory of him, he would have been accused not only of heresy but of sacrilege.

So he had the Russian Communist party at its 22nd congress this month do it for him when more than 5,000 cheering delegates ordered Stalin's body taken from its tomb and a monument built in Moscow to the victims of his tortures and purges.

Now the Molotovs, the Albanians, the Red Chinese—if they still want to find fault—must do it with the entire Russian Communist party, not with Khrushchev whom the party has so grandly supported.

Five Years to Do It

But it has taken Khrushchev five years to achieve this final degradation of Stalin, pretty good evidence that after he first denounced Stalin in 1956:

1. The myth of Stalin, who the Russian people had been taught was always right, still persisted and remained a measuring stick by which to judge every new or different action Khrushchev took.

2. He had encountered a lot of criticism and even opposition within the Russian Communist party itself in his efforts to free his hands from the grip of the dead man.

Even one year later, in 1957, Khrushchev must have felt a little uncertain about how far he could go in trying to destroy both the myth and memory of Stalin. In that year, despite what he said in 1956, he still called Stalin a "great Communist" and added "this Stalin we do not want to abandon."

Open to Conflict

As late as 1959 Khrushchev conceded some Communist party members had opposed his attempt to demolish the Stalin image. So long as his anti-Stalinism could be interpreted as a one-man crusade, he was open to conflict at home, even though minor. And the Stalinist Red Chinese could go after him individually.

But now, after the action of the 22nd party congress, Khrushchev can claim full support by his party for his anti-Stalinism for whatever he does that is the opposite of what Stalin might have done. Anyone who differs with him now inside Russia or outside must be considered anti-party and anti-Russian but not anti-Khrushchev.

By the time Stalin died in 1953 a new world, different from the one he always knew, was coming to birth. New nations, freshly freed from colonialism, were being born.

New Techniques Needed

New techniques for dealing with them were needed. The Russians couldn't overrun Africa and Asia as they had overrun the satellite nations of Europe in the war. Stalin was unsuited. Men in authority have two main instruments for trying to impose their will on others: persuasion and power. Stalin knew only power as he demonstrated in Korea and the Berlin blockade.

At the time of his death, Russia lacked the power of its main adversary: the United States. This country at the time of Stalin's death had the hydrogen bomb and Russia didn't. Russia didn't develop its own hydrogen weapon until some months after Stalin's death.

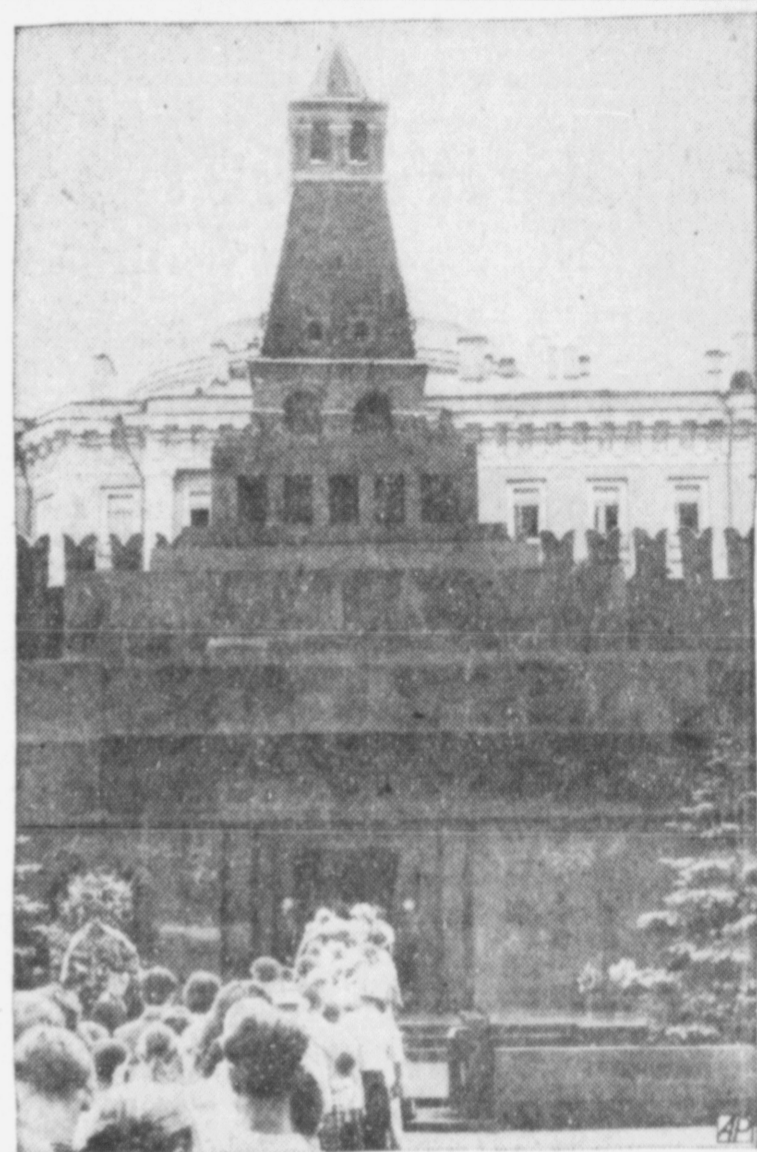

But once it got it—just because its power of annihilation was so enormous—one wrong step by either great power could mean annihilation for both. So new tactics—like subversion, guerrilla war, foreign aid, propaganda, just to mention a few—were needed.

History May Repeat

Khrushchev himself perhaps best summed up his realization of why and how he had to shove the memory of Stalin out of sight when, in 1959, explaining his attacks on Stalin, he said it had to be done to "liberate the creative forces of the people, to open the road toward something new."

Yet, from this moment on Khrushchev is not likely to have peace in his lifetime. For, having degraded Stalin with party support, no matter how hard he works he must always wonder whether the same thing will happen to him when he's dead and some successor wants to free himself from the memory of Khrushchev.

SUGGEST THE NEW
CHANNEL MASTER
GOLDEN CROSSFIRE ANTENNA?

Let's face it!

Among TV experts, this is what is known as a tough fringe area. In too many homes like yours, the TV picture isn't very good. Your family's video enjoyment is marred by snow...ghosts...blur...and other forms of annoying interference.

Here's where your TV dealer enters the picture! Because he is a TV expert, he knows best how to get improved reception. And he knows which antenna is best qualified to do the job.

That's why he suggests the new CHANNEL MASTER GOLDEN CROSSFIRE for your use. Antenna power gives you "picture power!" Because the CROSSFIRE puts more "picture power" to work than any other antenna — you get a sharper, clearer picture on EVERY channel!

Visit one of the dealers below who recommends the CHANNEL MASTER CROSSFIRE. See what he can do for your picture!

Obligation to Girl He Is With

Q: Last Saturday night my boy friend and I and two other couples went to a night club. While we were there one of the men in our group spotted a woman friend sitting at a nearby table. He went over and asked her to dance. The girl he was with was very much put out over this and thought he was very rude to have left her to dance with someone else at another table. I thought he was very rude, too, but the men of course, took sides with him and thought it was perfectly all right. I would like your opinion on this.

A: You are quite right. It was rude of him to have left the girl he was with to dance with someone at another table.

A Bridesmaid's Mother Dies Suddenly

Q: A friend asked me to be a bridesmaid in her wedding and I accepted. I had already bought my dress and everything that goes with it when my mother died suddenly. I feel that it would be improper for me to take part now as it will be only three weeks since my mother's death. I have been advised to go ahead with my plans as it would be very unfair to the bride to back out. Will you please give me your opinion?

A: As it will be impossible to replace you at this late date, it would be very unfair to the bride to back out, and out of consideration for her you could properly take part. You should, however, refrain from dancing at the reception.

After Breaking Her Engagement

Q: I have just recently broken my engagement and I would like to know what to do with the many presents I received from my fiancé's family and friends. Should I pack them up and return them to him so that he may dispose of them, or is it my obligation to return them?

A: It is your obligation to return each present to its giver with a note of explanation.

Of Many Things

Adults of Tomorrow Will Trick or Treat

Few names in the modern world evoke more vivid images than United Nations Children's Fund. The abbreviation, UNICEF, can conjure up many sights and emotions; lines of children waiting to be vaccinated against tuberculosis, a midwife riding through the jungle armed with tiger gun and UNICEF kit, the distribution of sulfone tablets to leprosy victims whose cupped hands are fingerless, the smile of hope of a child whose smarting eyelids cast the darkness of trachoma.

Viewing UNICEF - assisted projects can also mean coming face to face with the tragic mask of yaws, a highly contagious, ugly disease which eats away the muscles and soft tissues of the body, and with the appalling thinness of babies suffering from malnutrition. Such sights would be unbearable indeed, without the knowledge that a UNICEF nickel can mean penicillin to cure a child of yaws, and that a UNICEF penny can mean five glasses of milk, or five vitamin capsules.

During 1960, the Fund's health and nutrition projects and disease control reached over 56 million children and mothers in more than 100 countries. Additional millions of persons benefited from services at maternal and child welfare centers and hospitals equipped with UNICEF help. Through these long-range programs the Fund assists the governments of developing areas to care for their children in ways that would be impossible without international aid.

In addition to these ever present needs there is always the aspect of emergency help. This past year UNICEF met a number of natural disasters and states of crisis with an unusually large number of emergency allocations. Famine in the Congo, cyclones in Pakistan and Mauritius, earthquakes in Morocco and Chile, drought in Mauritania, the plight of refugees in Morocco and Tunisia all required urgent, drastic intervention. These life-saving expenditures totalled less than was collected for UNICEF by American boys and girls last fall on Halloween.

Local Participation Grows

Still this striking fact does not do justice to the selflessness with which our children choose to share their Halloween fun by Trick or Treating for UNICEF. In so doing, they participate in the work of permanent health services in areas where a child's sickness and death has been taken for granted through the ages. They contribute to the improved nutrition and better feeding habits in parts of the world where most children go to sleep hungry every night.

We can be proud of our children, and grateful to those in our communities who will form the local framework of the nationwide Trick or Treat for UNICEF program tonight. To name a few—We have Mrs. Mary Short of the YWCA who is coordinating the teenage effort there on behalf of UNICEF tonight. Mrs. Short tells me children may still obtain canisters and identification badges this afternoon and early evening if they wish to participate in the UNICEF program this evening.

The Lions Club in New Paltz has thrown its weight behind the program as has the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church Junior and Senior High Youth Fellowship who sponsored Meager Meal programs recently with all contributions going to UNICEF.

The children of Temple Emanuel Religious School will be collecting tonight for UNICEF. Last year, the school earned a certificate of commendation from the United Nations. Tillson Christian Endeavor is also sponsoring a similar program. Junior members will collect in the afternoon and senior members in the evening. A party will be held at the Tillson School after the collections have been made.

More than 250 children are expected to participate in the program in the Woodstock area. Organizations spearheading the project there include the Woodstock P-T-A League of Women Voters, American Association for the United Nations and the Overlook Methodist Church. Earlier this fall, the Junior League of Kingston sponsored a speaker on the subject and the girls and boy scouts in the area participated by assembling the canisters which will be used tonight.

UNICEF Helps Youth and World Peace

By working to alleviate conditions which breed tragedy and rebellion in these developing areas, UNICEF indirectly works for a more peaceful and coherent world. In helping UNICEF in this huge task, our youths are preparing a better future for themselves as well as for the beneficiaries of their generosity, since they will all live together as the adults of tomorrow.

President John F. Kennedy has said in a message to the United States Committee for UNICEF, "I am confident that UNICEF will remain a foremost concern to all Americans because it engages both the idealistic zeal and practical imagination of a free people. . . . The UNICEF Halloween program is an outstanding example of active citizen concern in the work of the United Nations Children's Fund."

Holy Cross Church Spaghetti Supper Set for Saturday

Final plans have been completed for the annual spaghetti supper of Holy Cross Episcopal Church which will be held Saturday, Nov. 4, with servings starting at 5:30 and continuing until all are served.

The supper will be held in the parish hall, Pine Grove Avenue. Mrs. William K. Gregory, chairman, reports that tickets will be available at the door.

The kitchen and preparation committees will meet for all Friday and again Friday night. Members of committees also have been requested to help with preparations all day Saturday.

Mrs. Leonard Hinkley is co-chairman of the event. Proceeds of the supper will be used for the renovation of the heating facilities.

A testimonial dinner was held in honor of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John D. Simmons, pastor of St. Mary's and Our Lady of Mercy Church of Marlboro and Roseton, Sunday evening at the Pine Tree Inn, Route 9W, Middlehope. Msgr. Simmons was recently elevated to the rank of Domestic Prelate.

Approximately 175 parishioners and guests attended the fete. All parish organizations including the Holy Name Society, Altar-Rosary Society and Catholic Daughters of America were represented.

Among special guests were the Rev. F. X. Schwarz, pastor of St. James Church, Milton, and the Rev. Edward Burke, pastor of St. Mary's Church, Newburgh, both classmates of the monsignor at the seminary. His sister Gertrude, and nephews Patrick and John attended as well as representatives of the Lawyer's Club of Kingston. Toastmaster was Joseph Torracca.

We The Women One Man's Evaluation Of Women's Conversation

RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
"If American women were as interested in improving their conversation as they are in making the most of their looks, what charmers they would be." So says a man who reads this column. He goes on to explain: "It's when she opens her mouth that a woman either draws people to her or turns them against her. It's a shame how many women do the latter through just a few bad conversational faults. The faults that really grate on most men are these:

"Talking too much and in too opinionated a manner. When a woman in a mixed group takes over conversationally, she irritates every man forced by politeness to listen while she holds forth on first one subject and then another.

"Failing to really listen when others talk. Women who don't really listen always give themselves away by wandering eyes, inane comments, tense, nervous gestures.

"Not letting others finish their sentences. Women who are bad at this will talk as loud as necessary to drown out the person who is trying to get a word in edgeways.

"Concentrating so much on unimportant details they never make the point of the story they set out to tell. 'Let me see, was it last year or the year before? It must have been last year, because...' and so on and on, instead of getting to the point.

"Talking far too much about their children, a topic guaranteed to bore every man who has to listen.

"Making malicious little remarks about people who aren't present to defend themselves. The sweeter the tone of voice, the more irritating those remarks about people who aren't present to defend themselves. The sweeter the tone of voice, the more irritating those remarks are to a man.

Are we women really guilty of all those charm-killing conversational habits? If so, maybe we had better worry a bit less about how we look and a bit more about how we sound.

Sawyers Play At Roosevelt; Paltz Plays OCS

BY ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Saugerties High will attempt to clinch no worse than a tie for the Dutchess County Scholastic Football league title Saturday with a contest at Roosevelt. Meanwhile, New Paltz will host Onteora and the Huguenots need only a tie to claim the UCAL championship, providing they defeat Wallkill this evening.

Kingston players have a week off before meeting unbeaten Middletown at Dietz Stadium. This promises to be one of the top attractions of the season as the Middies strive for an undefeated season.

This Saturday's schedule:

Saugerties at Roosevelt
Middletown at Union-Edicott
Liberty at Rondout
Onteora at New Paltz
Wallkill at Marlboro
Highland vs. Wappingers (River-view)

Beacon at Poughkeepsie
Arlington at Cardinal Farley
Saugerties, which hasn't lost a grid contest since 1959, rules a lopsided favorite over Roosevelt, which surprised Beacon two weeks ago and then lost to Cardinal Farley last Saturday. The Sawyers overcame a huge stumbling block at Albany Academy in their bid for a second straight undefeated season. Only Roosevelt and dangerous Beacon remain on the slate.

Redskins Drop Another, but May Have Quarterback

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Redskins lost another game Sunday — their seventh this year and 15th in a row over two seasons — but they may have gained a quarterback.

Norman Snead played a great game," said Washington Coach Bill McPeak today, "and it came at a crucial point in his career."

The 6-foot-4 rookie from Wake Forest completed 21 of 31 passes for 296 yards and two touchdowns although the Redskins lost 27-24 in the final minute to the Philadelphia Eagles, defending National Football League champions.

Snead will be the starting quarterback again next Sunday when the Redskins play the defensively strong New York Giants at Yankee Stadium.

McPeak, also a rookie as head coach, has gambled on Snead as his quarterback. He swapped off Ralph Guglielmi, 1960 regular at the spot, just before the season began.

This meant Snead had to learn about life in the NFL the hard way — on the field with red-dogging linemen slamming into him. Most teams figure on taking several seasons to develop a quarterback, working him gradually into the lineup. But McPeak decided the Redskins were desperate. He is bringing Snead along in a crash program.

A quietly confident type, heard boos for the first time when Washington was shut out for the second consecutive week in a 24-0 defeat by St. Louis. The Cardinal linemen dumped Snead seven times trying to pass and he completed only 7 of 17 passes.

If the Cardinals' rough treatment upset the lanky quarterback it didn't show against the Eagles. He had the poise of a veteran.

Tough Opponents Saturday for Two Football Powers

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Michigan State and Mississippi, the nation's top two college football powers, tackle tough tests Saturday against upset-minded opponents.

The Spartans, ranked first Monday for the third week in succession, place their 5-0 record on the line in a Big Ten conference clash with resurgent Minnesota, last year's national champions who just missed climbing into the top ten in the latest rankings.

The Rebels, winners of six in a row in an undefeated campaign in which they've scored 204 points to 13 for their foes, tangle with sixth-ranked Louisiana State University in a Southeastern Conference matchup Saturday night.

Michigan State, also overpowering all opposition with 131 points while giving up only 10, retained the No. 1 spot in the latest ratings of The Associated Press' 47-man committee of sports writers and sports critics.

The Spartans, 35-0 conquerors of Indiana last Saturday, polled 21 first-place votes to eight for the Rebels, who walloped Vanderbilt 47-0 in their latest game. On a point basis, Michigan State received 437 to 407 for Mississippi.

The top teams, with first-place votes in parentheses, points figured on a 10, 9, 8, 7, etc. basis:

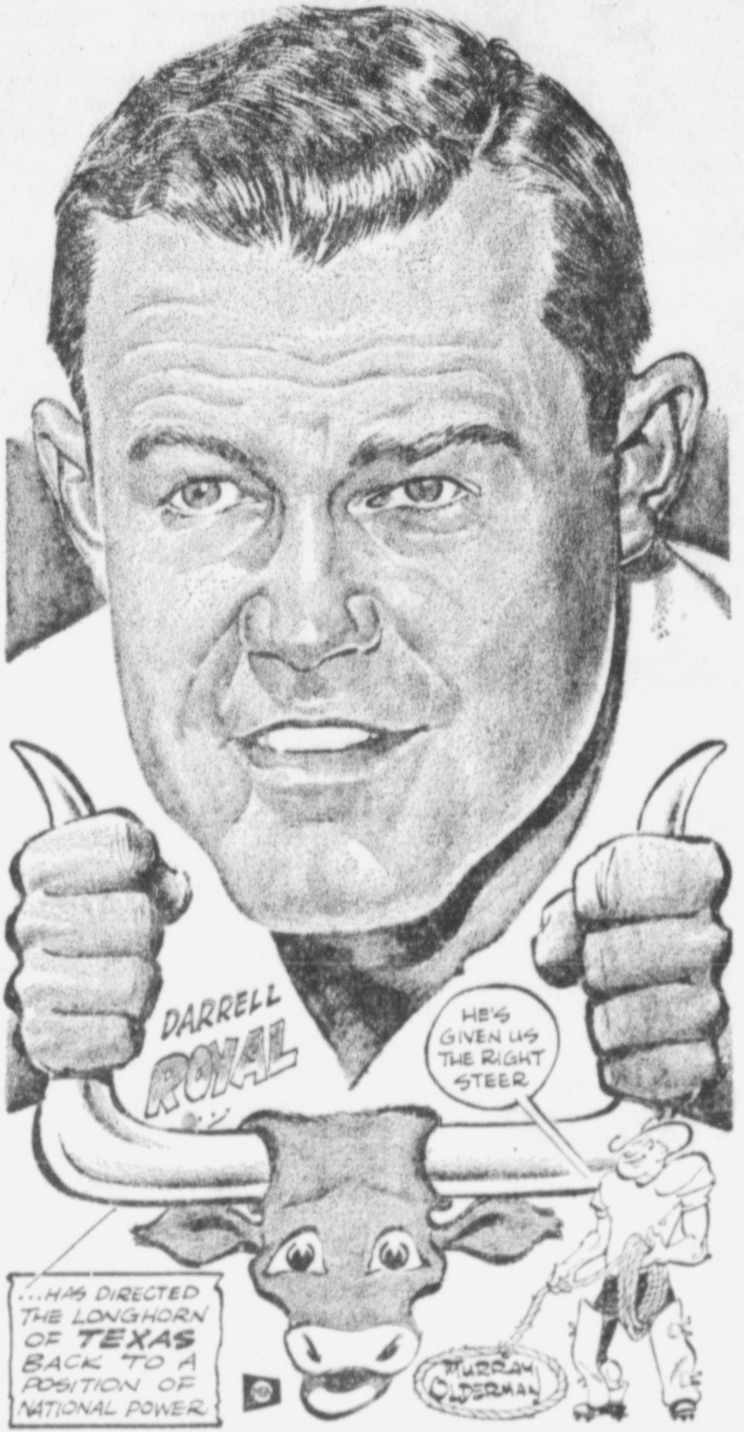

1. Michigan State (31) 437
2. Mississippi (8) 407
3. Texas (6) 383
4. Alabama (2) 325
5. Ohio State 267
6. Louisiana State 199
7. Georgia Tech 163
8. Colorado 142
9. Iowa 83
10. Missouri 65

Texas Longhorns' Season's Record Very Convincing

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

It is pretty hard not to believe in this current Texas football team. It has proven itself.

The Longhorns have won their two toughest games of the season — and on successive Saturdays. First they battered Southwest Conference toughie Arkansas 33-7 and last week beat Rice 34-7.

The figures are more convincing: No. 3 ranking nationally, the nation's best overall offense and top rushing offense; fifth best scoring team; and ninth in total defense.

The end result, to date: A 6-0 overall record and first place in the SWC with 9-0.

Southern Methodist, this week's opponent, evidently is impressed. "A team that should be No. 1 in the nation" was the way scout Ralph Hawkins characterized the Longhorns after watching them manhandle Rice.

A top offensive star, quarterback James Earl Wright of Memphis State, is finished for the season because of a torn knee cartilage. He led the nation in individual total offense before being injured two weeks ago and last week was rejuvinated against Mississippi State.

Secret Practice

Coach Dan Devine of Missouri has ruled that all of his practice sessions from now on will be secret to prevent information leaks to both opponents and to gamblers.

Duke Coach Bill Murray hoped for a repeat performance this week from his defense that must face Michigan. Last Saturday the Blue Devils in winning 17-6, forced North Carolina State to punt nine times. The Wolverines may not have tackle John Schopf and fullback Ken Tureaud.

Top-ranked Michigan State may be without soph halfback Herman Edwards because of injuries for its crucial Big Ten game against Purdue. The team's leading scorer, Bill Munsey, a halfback, returned and another halfback, Tommy King, also was pronounced ready to go.

Center Tom Hecovich, fullback Mike Lind, end Jim Kelly and guard Nick Buoniconti of Notre Dame are all doubtful for the Navy game while Sophs Floyd Webb, an end, and halfback Paul Krause took over first-string spots at Iowa at it prepared for a Big Ten game against Ohio State.

Boats Finds Friends; Gets Away From Them

By WM. TAYLOR McKEOWN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

What is the best thing about boating? We got a pungent answer from an old boatman.

"The best thing about boating is that you can get away from it all," he said. "Advertisements show families having fun together on boats. That is true, of course, but they could do that at home in the backyard."

"On the water, the boatman can get off alone. No long drive through traffic to some secluded spot and then you find all the picnic tables taken. On my boat, as soon as I push off from the shore I'm away from everything, well beyond the worries of the week and all that soggy togetherness."

"Not that I don't like people aboard," explained the old boatman as he smeared epoxy resin into a cracked brace under his helm's seat and wrapped it with fiberglass tape.

"But I got a boat as a boy to get out on my own, and that's the same appeal today."

"Boating's better now — look at this easy way to make a crack stronger than new with fiberglass repair. Less time needed to keep up a boat, and yet it still offers what it always did — solitude."

"Seems like there's more people around to get away from than ever before. This summer our grandchildren came to spend two weeks with us at our cottage on the lake. My wife loves them all. I do, too, but after the first noisy week I decided we'd better go on afternoon cruises."

"So each day about 4 we'd head out, just the wo of us on the boat, for a quiet run. Sometimes my wife Sue would steer while I did a little fishing. I'd ease in along a bank while she sketched some of the water birds. We'd get back just after the kids had been put to bed."

"Sue doesn't mind getting away from me once in a while, too. We have a dinghy we tow that can be rigged with an outboard or sail. She'll take it on a pleasant day when we're anchored away from home and go off exploring on her own."

"Even just working on the boat offshore here at the mooring is extra pleasant," he noted. "Could tie up at the dock and be watched by tourists, but out here only other boatmen can bother me. Few enough of them have the sense to leave their boats in for these nice days late in the season."

He rolled up the canvas deck cover he had spread to protect his cockpit and stowed away his tools.

"Tell people," he decided, "that a boat will find friends for you, or get you away from them."

Colgate Seeks Fifth Win Against Lehigh Saturday

By EDWARD J. NEIL III
HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) — Colgate, an injury plagued, sophomore-studded team with a patchwork defense and a penchant for mistakes, seeks its fifth straight victory Saturday against Lehigh.

The Red Raiders, after consecutive 2-7 football seasons and a 34-0 beating by Cornell in the opening game this year, rebounded dramatically.

Coach Alva Kelley redployed his defense, sending an end, three tackles and a fullback into the line.

Colgate gave up only one touchdown in the next four games, on a pass, while two sophomore backs, and a junior quarterback suddenly struck sparks on offense.

Both sophomores were injured Saturday in a 14-8 victory over Yale. But quarterback Dan Keating ran for 131 of Colgate's 210 yards on the ground.

"This is the most amazing team I've ever seen," Kelley said. "They are remarkable kids. No one is a big star but they all win together. They make mistakes, more than I would like to admit, but someone always seems to cover them up."

In losing half a backfield — halfback Jim Heiman and fullback John Ciocari — Kelley said he had about 13 regulars, including two sophomores, ready for rugged Lehigh, which has a 4-2 record.

Colgate, also beat Princeton and Harvard and appeared to be re-suming its reputation as the scourge of the Ivy League. Colgate is not a league member, however.

Kelley pointed out that Lehigh, which whipped Columbia, 14-7,

"also has a little luck against Ivy teams."

Injuries From Start

Injuries have dogged the Red Raiders since the opening game. Kelley's first and second team right ends and guards were sidelined against Cornell.

Robert Soder, a senior, took over at guard and Jared Northrup, a senior who was not listed on depth charts, became the end. Both have played virtually without relief.

"Neither had shown anything in practice," Kelley said. "Now I wouldn't replace either one of them."

"I've been lucky, the team has been hanging together," he added.

Against Yale, both Ciocari and senior Tom Scull, both fullbacks, were injured. "I had to put in Art Edwards, my punting specialist," the coach said, "and he was cutting down their ends pretty well."

After Lehigh, Colgate plays Syracuse in the final game of a rivalry that began in 1891.

"Maybe we will play Syracuse again in the future," Kelley said. "It depends on what Colgate plans to do. We are a small school (enrollment about 1,300 men). We can't play powerhouses like Syracuse without a change in policy."

Earlier this year, Athletic Director Everett Barnes was quoted as announcing Colgate would attempt to regain the football prominence it had under coach Andy Kerr in the 1930s. He was overruled by Colgate President Everett Case, who retires at the end of this year.

Kelley said he had recruited the surprising sophomores that have bolstered his team, but added:

"...on the same basis as Ivy schools, no athletic scholarship."

Chamberlain Also Rebound Leader

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain is off and running in defense of his National Basketball Association scoring championship with a 51.2 point average for the first two weeks of the 1961-62 season.

The Philadelphia phenom, who set 10 scoring records last season, has produced 256 points in five games, league statistics showed today. The 7-foot-1 Stilt also is the rebound leader with 139, an average of 27.8 per game.

Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles is runnerup in the scoring race with a 33.0 average on 198 points in six games.

Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson is showing the way in assists with 50 feeds in four games for a 14.7 average. Bill Russell of Boston has the best rebound average, 32.0 on 64 in his two games.

Boston's W.C. Jones has been the most accurate field goal shooter with 10 baskets in 14 attempts for a .714 percentage. Al Ferrari of St. Louis is the top free throw marksman with a perfect 10-for-10.

Donut King Favored To Win Garden State

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Vern Winehell's Donut King today was established an early 6-5 favorite to win Saturday's ninth running of the Garden State, the world's richest race for 2-year-olds.

Twelve horses are set for the mile-and-a-half race, which means a gross of $302,365 with $181,419 going to the winner.

Donut King, who will be ridden by Donald Pierce, defeated the leading Eastern 2-year-olds Jai-pur and Sir Gaylord in the Champagne at Aqueduct and scored by nine lengths over Obey, Green Ticket and others in the second division of the Garden State Trial last Saturday.

Crimson King Farm's Crimson Satan, winner of three of his last four, was rated as second choice at 8-5 odds. He will have Willie Shoemaker up.

Third choice at 8-1 is the entry of Obey and Pinsteer. Obey, owned by R.F. Bensinger, will be ridden by Larry Gilligan.

Los Angeles Jets Win in Debut

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Jets made their American Basketball League home debut with a 119-116 victory over the Chicago Majors Monday night.

"It was a mighty fine homecoming. I think," said player-coach Bill Sharman, for years a star with the Boston Celtics of the rival National Basketball Association.

There were seven 3-point field goals scored from beyond the 25-foot circle under the new ABL scoring rule. Kelley Coleman of the Majors scored two of them. Sharman connected on a 40-foot set shot that put the Jets ahead 61-59 at halftime, and they never trailed after that, although the Majors tied the count at 104-104.

Coleman was the game's high scorer with 35 points.

Bathgate Holds Lead In National Hockey

MONTREAL (AP)—Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers scored one goal and assisted on another Sunday night against Toronto — enough to hold his lead in the National Hockey League scoring race.

The two points, Bathgate's output for the last week, furnished his margin of leadership over Montreal's Claude Provost, league statistics revealed today.

Provost, off to his best start in seven seasons with the Canadiens, accumulated five points on two goals and three assists during the week, pushing his season total to 15 points.

Bathgate has five goals and 12 assists for 17 points.

Scholastic Grid Teams to Play 2 Games Today

Two area schoolboy football games are scheduled for today. Kingston High will journey to Poughkeepsie for a game with the Pioneers at 2:30 this afternoon. This was the DUSO engagement rained out several weeks ago.

The annual Halloween contest at New Paltz is slated at 8 tonight between the Huguenots and Wallkill. New Paltz can clinch a first place tie in the UCAL with a victory in this one.

Kingston Loses Jayvee Game at Newburgh 14-13

Newburgh's Junior varsity football team edged out Kingston High Jayvees by a score of 14-13 in a game played Monday at Newburgh, during a steady downpour of rain that drenched the players and fans.

Al Werbalowsky a Kingston fullback scored a touchdown on a 5-yard pass from Paul Gruner and Mike Hart tallied the second touchdown. Hart made the extra point on the play.

Hyten, Newburgh's right halfback came through with two touchdowns for the winners on 15 and five-yard runs.

Caldwell-Halimi Bout Could Clear Up Title

LONDON (AP)—Irishman John Caldwell steps into the ring tonight for a 15-rounder against Frenchman Alphonse Halimi in a battle that could clear up the confused world bantamweight boxing picture.

Caldwell, 23, must defeat Halimi to get a shot at Brazil's Eder Jofre, who is recognized as the world champion by the National Boxing Association of America. Caldwell is the man Europe recognizes as the title holder.

Jofre's manager, Abraham Katzenelson, will be at ringside with a special mission. His job will be to sign the winner to fight Jofre in a bout that should produce an undisputed world champion.

Caldwell was a 6-5 favorite to defeat Halimi, 29, and retain the European version of the world title he captured from the same man last May.

Upsets Have Experts Groggy, But They Make Football Great

By HARRY GRAYSON
Newspaper Enterprise
Sports Editor

In view of what transpires week in and week out, football experts have to possess more derring-do than members of the Light Brigade to stay in business.

The results of last week-end left the platoon prognosticators hanging red-faced on the ropes. De-glamorized Pittsburgh, indeed, Northwestern worn to a frazzle, wow! Iowa's dazzling backs and pin-point passing, etc., etc.

Upsets are what make football a tremendous game, however, and this handicapper charges on with the others. Let's start with Ohio State to overhaul Iowa, even if it isn't as muddy as the Hawkeyes found it at Purdue, when they were blanked for the first time in 79 years.

There are three other superior college engagements Nov. 4. While this old longshot stabber would like to pick against the three all-conquering outfits involved, the choices have to be Michigan State over Minnesota, Mississippi over Louisiana State and Colorado over Missouri.

Woody Hayes has been waiting for this meeting with Iowa for what to the Ohio State coach was a long, long year. Though the sides were rated even Stephen last fall, the Hawks piled it on, 35-12. The Buckeyes don't take shellackings like that sitting down. The Hawks will be rebounding after being ambushed in the Lafayette goo and Matt Szykowsky will test them through the air, but Hayes has had time to mend the fences. And Bob Ferguson and Company will be cheered on by the great bulk of $3,000 people at Ohio Stadium.

SURPRISING MINNESOTA has bagged four straight since being edged by Missouri in its opener, but Michigan State has much too much of everything against Golden Gophers too dependent on defense.

Mississippi has the offense, Louisiana State the defense and 70,000 howling Cajuns at Tiger Stadium. I have to go with the superior attack. Boom! It is the same story with Missouri invading Boulder, where Colorado is used to the altitude.

Elsewhere in the country and starting in the East, I like Pittsburgh against a Syracuse club which is still banged up. Penn State is finally hitting and should take Maryland. Columbia is too well balanced for Cornell, West Virginia for George Washington, Harvard for Pennsylvania and Princeton for Brown. Dartmouth gets a shaky vote over a Yale array due to win. The same goes for Iowa State at Boston College, Colgate at Lehigh and Army against Detroit.

George Mira of Miami presents Georgia with a passing problem, but the Bulldogs have the equalizer in field goal kicker Tom Pennington. It's Auburn easily against Wake Forest, Clemson over Tulane, Georgia Tech over Florida and Kentucky over Florida State. Line toughness gives Alabama and Tennessee the call against Mississippi State and North Carolina, respectively.

SPORTSMAN'S DIGEST By Hal Sharp
WHEN FUR IS PRIME

SKUNK FUR IS 1ST TO BECOME PRIME EACH FALL. WHERE TRAP- PERS HAVE A SELECTION OF ANI- MALS TO TRAP, THEY WILL DO WELL TO CONCENTRATE ON SKUNK UNTIL OTHER FUR BEARERS ARE PRIME IN THIS ORDER: COON, MARTEN, FISHER, MUSKRAT, OTTER, MINK, BEAVER AND FOX (FOX AFTER 1 OR 2 SNOWS). MOST STATES AND PROVINCES SET A SEASON FOR FUR BEARERS. YOU MIGHT DELAY TRAPPING A WEEK OR 2 FOR FULLY PRIME FUR. IN AREAS WHERE WEASELS TURN WHITE, AT THAT TIME ALL OTHER FUR IS PRIME. IF STRETCHED HIDES TURN BLUE, IT MEANS FUR WASN'T PRIME.

spectively. In the Southwest, Texas takes Southern Methodist in stride. Baylor is still crippled, so it's Texas Christian. Arkansas' speed should prevail against Texas A. and M. Rice's depth gives it a bulge against Texas Tech.

IN OTHER SKIRMISHES in the Midwest, Notre Dame just has to be the selection against Michigan against Duke, Northwestern against Indiana and Purdue at Illinois. In Big Eight territory, it's Kansas at Nebraska, Oklahoma at Kansas State and Oklahoma State at Wichita. Wyoming should be six-point favorite at Arizona. Utah State rates 10 points at Brigham Young.

The Big Five's Rose Bowl representative may emerge from the Washington-Southern California duel in Seattle. The Huskies rate being the favorites by six points. UCLA is a 12-point favorite over California and should win. My choice is Stanford over Oregon.

Getting back to the form reversal theme, however, college football is so unpredictable that sometimes the seers can't even tell what constitutes an upset.

ADVANCED SYSTEMS DEVELOPMENT

International Electric, systems managers in the design and development of advanced, large-scale digital systems, is offering technically demanding positions of responsibility to a select group of mature, experienced senior scientists and engineers. These positions offer unusual opportunity to specialists who wish to broaden their professional capabilities.

DEVELOPMENT SPECIALISTS

—To evolve users' systems requirements in such areas as air traffic control, ASW, satellite control, command/control systems. Also assignments in information retrieval, man/machine communications and advanced computer utilization. Require six years' experience, in large systems.

DIGITAL ENGINEER MANAGERS

—Senior and supervisory engineers with managerial capacity, to direct sub-systems engineering efforts. We seek engineers with at least five years' design experience, preferably in the digital area, with the maturity and ability to effect technical liaison with sub-contractors, manage the design effort and assure financial control of their project area.

AEROSPACE ENGINEERS

—Senior engineers, responsible for optimum integration of digital command/control systems with complex weapons systems, through effective technical liaison with sub-contractors and the Air Force missile organization. Provide development and documentation of operational and system equipment requirements essential to this integration.

PROGRAMMING ANALYSTS

—For program analysis and development, for real time systems. To develop compilers, problem-oriented computer language and advanced programming systems. Other positions for Diagnostic Programmers, to prepare maintenance and diagnostic programs and to monitor tests, to achieve a maximum error-free, real time operation and to reduce repair time.

A Good Skate

HANCOCK, Wis. (AP) — Charles W. Christianson got a lifetime pass to Lo Nor Rink on his last birthday—when he turned 85. The gift is more generous than it might appear to be. Christianson, a native of Copenhagen, Denmark, skates at the rink nearly every evening and is usually the first to arrive and the last to leave. Christianson almost never misses a night in the winter and misses very few in the summer, despite his cultivation of a half acre cucumber patch. He says, "Picking cucumbers all day and then roller skating at night equalizes me. I'm not tired after skating. I usually go home and read for two or three hours."

Washington, smallest of the western states, is larger than all of New England.

Ottawa Men Are Seized, May Be From Bogus Ring

OGDENSBURG, N. Y. (AP)—A customs agent said today two Canadians arrested here were believed to be part of a counterfeit-money ring operating throughout Canada and across the U.S.-Canadian border.

Agent Archie R. Denner said Jack Chance, 31, of Eastview, an Ottawa suburb, and Arthur Carey, 27, of Ottawa, had 40 $100 counterfeit Canadian bills and a quantity of blank, stolen Canadian money orders when arrested Monday night as they crossed the Ogdensburg-Prescott International Bridge in an automobile.

The two were held for arraignment on charges of smuggling and possession of counterfeit foreign securities.

Denner said they had police records.

Explanation Is Offered Of Proposed Amendments

Editor's Note: This is the second of two articles on proposed amendments to the State Constitution, which will appear on the election ballot next Tuesday.

By ROBERT T. GRAY
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A court reorganization proposal on which voters will act next Tuesday calls for unified administration of state and local courts, creation of Family Courts and consolidation of New York City tribunals.

The plan will appear on the ballot as the first of seven proposed amendments to the State Constitution on which voters will decide.

The court amendment represents a compromise between a need for modernizing judicial procedures and partisan politics. The Republican-controlled Legislature rejected a more extensive plan for modernizing the court system because it provided for abolition of village, town and city courts in favor of district courts manned by full-time jurists with legal training.

Peace justices and other local court officials long have been important elements of Republican organizations in suburban and rural areas.

Accepted Generally
There have been some misgivings the court reorganization plan does not go far enough but it has had acceptance generally as an important forward step and the best plan available from the Legislature.

McCardle Critical Of Statement on Firms, Recreation

James T. McCardle, Democratic supervisor in the Ninth Ward, took exception to a statement made last week by the Republican candidate for mayor, John J. Schwenk, which tended to convince the people of Kingston "of his concern for industrial and recreational development."

In a speech made Monday at Democratic Headquarters before a meeting of the Democratic candidates McCardle said, "In professing to seek out industrial firms which are planning new plant and laboratory installations and to make them aware of the advantages of locating in the Kingston area, the Republican candidate has displayed his usual lack of knowledge of the things that are happening around him."

"For the record, the Democratic members of the Board of Supervisors proposed such a commission for the county about two years ago. It has been established without the help of any Republican office holder. Every Republican supervisor voted against it."

"Perhaps it would be in order if the Republican candidate for mayor would explain why this commission, under the control of three Republican supervisors and the Republican party leaders has met only three times in the past two years. If Mr. Schwenk has any real concern for industrial and recreational development, he could have come out in favor of the Democratic proposal made two years ago," McCardle emphasized.

McCardle further reiterated that the proposal made by the Republican candidate for mayor is "just a duplication of effort. Any industrial commission appointed at this time by the city or any other group would only be in competition with the county industrial commission and would present a foolish picture of organized confusion in Ulster County," McCardle said.

The supervisor of the 9th Ward urged that the Republican party leaders instead permit the County Industrial Commission to function as it was intended. McCardle concluded that if the Democrats assume control of the Board of Supervisors, "this commission will function and will maintain a close liaison with every governing body in this county. Under 30 years of Republican rule, this county has stood absolutely still. Under the Democratic supervisors, Ulster County will start to move forward again. We will try to undo the 30 years of neglect, corruption and complete indifference at the hands of the Republican Party leaders," McCardle said.

When political negotiations break down, as they did this year and last, a need for additional judges goes unmet.

Flexible Zoning Controls Envisioned in Growth Plan

Flexible zoning controls based on population density was envisioned in the completed Growth Plan for Woodstock by Dr. Harry Anthony of the Brown and Anthony planning consultant firm in the first of four progress reports.

Dr. Anthony addressed a near capacity crowd at town hall on the first of four phases of the overall plan, fact finding.

In addition to comments on the flexible zoning controls which he said would be required because of the unique character of the community, the consultant also projected several other opinions and estimates. Standard, rigid zoning would not be desirable for Woodstock, he indicated.

With respect to the need for planning, he again reiterated his population estimates for the next 40 years, predicting that by the year 2,000, Woodstock, at its present rate of growth, would have a population of 32,000. By 1970 the present population of 3860 would expand to 6500; then to 11,000 by 1980 and 19,000 in 1990.

Dr. Anthony said that planning stabilizes land and property values and does not raise taxes. He said the Woodstock Growth Plan does not intend to make zoning retroactive.

The program was opened with address by J. C. van Rijn, chairman of the Planning Board. After the consultants had shown several maps covering the exploratory phase of the program, they answered questions from the floor. Attorney Martin F. Comeau, a member of the Planning Board, served as moderator for the question period.

The maps dealt with population density, population patterns in the township, watersheds, traffic arteries, topography, available land spaces and other items.

Fiery Trail in Nine Hotels Arsonist Hunted For Frisco Fires

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A firebug, described by one witness as a pimply faced, giggling 6-footer, left a fiery trail through downtown San Francisco Monday night and early today.

Police and fire officials pressed a search for the arsonist, who, after setting fires in nine leading hotels, moved into another downtown district and set several more fires in trash piles.

$10,000 Damage in One
Most of the blazes were extinguished before they did any serious damage. Fire Chief William Murray said. But a fire on the 14th floor of the Fielding Hotel, started in a linen closet, did an estimated $10,000 damage.

The rash of fires, Murray said, were all set by the same person.

Speeder Pays $50 In Court, Check Case Is for Jury

A driver, charged with speeding as a second offender, was fined $50 by Special City Judge Arthur B. Ewig today, a forgery case was referred to the grand jury and two defendants received suspended sentences.

Silvio Lanza, 40, of 431 Beach 122nd Street, Rockaway, who was booked here recently, paid the fine.

Michael Joseph Fox, 46, of Arlmont Street, who was booked Monday on a second degree forgery charge, waived examination and was held to await grand jury action. It is charged that he had cashed a $58 social security check belonging to another person when he made a drug store purchase.

Gilbert Henderson, 22, of 223 Catherine Street, booked for malicious mischief after a bottle was thrown through a window at 7 Canal Street, was given a suspended sentence and placed on probation for a year. He agreed to make restitution for damage estimated at $50.

Ida May Bell, 28, of 45 Newkirk Avenue, who had been booked on two assault charges and one of disorderly conduct, was given a suspended sentence and placed on probation for six months. One assault charge was lodged by her husband, Frank Bell, and the others by Officer Thomas Coffey.

Henry DuBois Polhemus, 21, of Port Ewen, charged with passing a flashing red light, was fined $5.

Some insects live uncashed on insect-eating plants. Certain small moths, for example, lay their eggs only on pitcher plants and the larvae feed on the plant tissues.
